Russia Cuts Tie With Tito; Others May Act

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia scrapped her friendship treaty with Yugoslavia today, declaring Premier Marshal Tito's regime has lined up with "foreign imperialist circles."

The decision ending the alliance signed in 1945 was disclosed in a Soviet note to Yugoslavia. It was broadcast by the Moscow radio.

The note declared the Budapest treason trial of former Hungarian Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk, sentenced to death last Saturday, disclosed Yugoslavia had been carrying on hostile activity against the Soviet Union.

Rajk was accused specifically of plotting with Yugoslav and U.S. agents to overthrow the Moscow-backed Communist government in Hungary. Marshal Tito denounced the trial as a Russian propaganda move aimed at weakening his Yugoslav regime.

The Russian action was the sharpest diplomatic slap at Yugoslavia since the Moscow-led Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) expelled the Yugoslavs in June, 1948.

Since that time Russia and her Eastern European satellites have clamped an economic boycott on Yugoslavia.

There was immediate speculation here that other Communist countries may follow Russia's lead and sever formal ties with the Yugoslavs.

Yugoslavia has friends in mutual aid treaties with Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

Right To Live
NEW YORK (AP)—The editor of the Vatican newspaper, Count Giuseppe Della Torre, says the Roman Catholic Church's minimum requirements for peace with communism are those which guarantee to the church "the ability to live."

Demers Committed
SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Tony Demers, former Montreal Canadiens hockey player, was committed for trial today on a charge of murdering his girl friend. He was charged in connection with the death of Mrs. Anita Robert of Coaticook following a drinking party. She died in a hospital at Magog, where she was taken by Demers. Hospital authorities said she appeared to have been badly beaten.

Dies With Babies

Mrs. Bernice Ecker, 33, who had received no prenatal care, gave birth to quadruplets—two boys and two girls—in Chicago, and then died with three of the babies. Her husband said they "didn't expect the baby until January and had no idea there would be more than one." Doctors said her death was apparently due to severe bleeding and shock. One girl survived. — (NEA Photo)

Body Of Sabotage Victim, Mrs. Guay, To Be Exhumed

QUEBEC (CP)—Capt. J. Alphonse Matte of the provincial police announced today that body of Mrs. Albert Guay, one of the 23 victims in the Quebec air disaster Sept. 9 will be exhumed for post-mortem examination.

Capt. Matte said he had received the exhumation order from Noel Dorion, prosecutor in the Crown's case against Mrs. Guay's husband. The young Jeweler is charged with murdering his 28-year-old wife by arranging for a time-bomb to be placed aboard the aircraft, sending her and 22 other victims to destruction.

Ford Labor Peace Settlement May Aid In Steel, Coal

DETROIT (UP)—The contract settlement between Ford Motors and the C.I.O. United Auto Workers was believed today to point the way to possible peace in the nationwide steel and coal disputes.

The Ford settlement was within the framework set up by the presidential fact-finding board that investigated the steel dispute and recommended that the C.I.O. steelworkers should abandon demands for a pay boost but that the companies should finance a pension and welfare program.

The agreement, providing $100 monthly pensions for 115,000 Ford workers, was expected to act as a possible lever to bring about a steel pact.

That, in turn, would aid in bringing about peace in the coal strike since John L. Lewis has intimated strongly that he wanted to wait for a steel agreement before signing a United Mine Workers contract with operators.

The Ford settlement, after protracted negotiations, was reached at 2:10 a.m. today.

Broadcast In Hebrew

LONDON (Reuter)—The BBC will start a daily program in Hebrew for Israel Oct. 30. Britain will be the first country in the world outside Palestine to broadcast a regular daily transmission in Hebrew, the announcement said.

British Election Fight On

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain's general election campaign has opened, in the opinion of many parliamentary quarters here, although the life of the present Parliament is not scheduled to end officially until June next year.

Observers regarded Conservative leader Winston Churchill's attack on the Labor government in Tuesday's devaluation debate in the Commons as the real start of the coming election fight.

Both Conservative and Liberal quarters are keyed up by persistent speculation on the possibility of a November poll, though the majority of government supporters believe dissolution of Parliament will not come before next March at the earliest.

PREPAREDNESS
The Conservative leaders are maintaining a "be prepared" attitude. They have not decided an autumn election is certain, but are leaving nothing to chance.

The Liberals are more positive. Their leader, Clement Davies, told a reporter he expected the election either late next month or early in November.

There are two cabinet views on when the government should go to the country, according to some parliamentary quarters.

Prime Minister Attlee, Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Foreign Secretary Bevin are said to favor a spring election, while Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison and Health Minister Aneurin Bevan would not be adverse to it being held now.

Allege 'Massacre'

TRIESTE (Reuter)—Italian newspapers here today claimed Yugoslav frontier guards Wednesday night "massacred" about 50 refugees trying to cross the frontier into Italy near Gorizia.

The refugees were mowed down by machine-gun fire and grenades, and only two survived to reach Italian territory, the papers stated.

Canada In Trouble If Britain Stops Buying, Says Bevan

LONDON (CP)—Health Minister Aneurin Bevan said today that if Britain stopped buying Canadian products the United Kingdom's dollar crisis "would become a Canadian financial crisis."

First government speaker on the final day of the three-day devaluation debate in the House of Commons, Bevan said: "If it is a crime in the British government to fail to balance its dollar purchases by its dollar sales, then what about Canada? 'Canada has never done it, either under a Liberal or a Conservative administration.'"

Bevan claimed Canada and the United States recognize that Britain's economic difficulties are not due to defects in the Labor government's administration but, on the contrary, they see they are the effects of two world wars and that British recovery so far has been magnificent.

Berlin's Airlift Ends Month Earlier

FRANKFURT (UP)—The Berlin airlift will end at midnight tomorrow after 462 days of operation, the U.S. Air Force announced today.

The bridge of planes that beat the Soviet land blockade of Western Berlin had been scheduled to end Oct. 31, but officials said it will cease operations a month early because sufficient stockpiles of supplies have been accumulated in Berlin to meet any emergency.

Actor Bogart Summoned On Charge Of Assault

NEW YORK (UP)—Movie tough guy Humphrey Bogart was served with a summons charging simple assault today for roughing up a couple of New York glamour girls in the swank El Morocco night club.

The summons, obtained against the screen star by model Robin Roberts, was served on Bogart in his St. Regis Hotel room by a private detective, accompanied by a city policeman.

Miss Roberts' attorney, Chester S. Mandel, said the summons was returnable in mid-Manhattan court tomorrow.

Service of the summons climaxed an hours-long search for Bogart in Manhattan's night spots Wednesday night and early today.

Miss Roberts, a pretty brunette, said Bogart sent her sprawling on El Morocco's plush carpet early Sunday morning when she playfully picked up a large panda doll he had put in a chair at his table.

Bogart and Bill Seeman, a playboy pal, had entered the night club, each carrying a panda doll. They seated the dolls at their table and introduced them as their "girl friends."

Bogart allegedly shoved Miss Roberts and Peggy Rabe, a banker's daughter, around when the girls playfully picked up the dolls.

Tear Gas For Crowd

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—One hundred deputy sheriffs today hurled tear gas bombs to break up a rock-throwing crowd of striking United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.), after non-strikers had tried to pass an all-woman picket line before the Bell Aircraft plant near here.

Search Plane Out; Blind Radio Signal Says Pair Drifting

NEW YORK (AP)—Transworld Airlines announced today it had received a dispatch from its Paris office indicating two Italian fliers, missing since Sept. 17 on a trans-Atlantic flight, are adrift in their plane near the Bahamas Islands.

The fliers, John M. Brondello and Camillo Barioglio, were on a planned non-stop flight from the Azores to New York in a single-engine plane.

The U.S. Coast Guard said an army plane already had left San Juan, Puerto Rico, for the location given—a point due east of the middle section of the Bahamas group.

T.W.A. said the dispatch from Paris had been relayed at the request of the Coast Guard.

The message indicating the fliers were alive was relayed from the Italian Marine radio, which picked up a blind message. The Coast Guard said the blind message said: "Alive drifting near Bahamas. Insufficient food. Radio inoperative. No search planes sighted."

Gunfire Punctuates Coal Strike Argument

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and southern coal operators resumed negotiations today amid a background of gunfire between pickets and non-union miners.

There were no signs that a break in the 11-day work stoppage of the U.M.W.'s 480,000 members would come as the result of the Bluefield, W.Va., conferences.

One miner was reported killed and another was severely wounded in a gunfire flare-up at Jasper, Ala., Wednesday. A sheriff said he could not confirm the death, however.

Trucks, hauling coal from non-union western Pennsylvania pits were stoned, injuring an unidentified driver.

Police patrolled the roads in the neighborhood of non-union mines in Pennsylvania, where pickets sought to keep some 1,400 miners out of the pits.

Governor William M. Tucker declared a state of emergency in Virginia.

Sixteen small mine operators in Kanawha County, West Virginia, were granted a temporary injunction prohibiting picketing of their non-union mines in the Tappan Creek area, not far from Charleston.

Murray Scorns Big Steel's Offer; Ready For Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Determined Philip Murray today went ahead with plans to flash the strike signal to 500,000 of his C.I.O. United Steelworkers.

He gave no sign of giving up his fight to force the United States steel industry to pay the entire cost of a pension-insurance program.

Government mediators stood by in Pittsburgh and 44 other key negotiating points—to help avert the strike set for tomorrow midnight.

Murray had nothing but scorn for a big steel offer of 10 cents an hour an employee to help finance pensions and insurance for the men who make steel. After the offer Wednesday, the veteran labor leader declared:

"It must be plain to all that the corporation is deliberately seeking to force a steel strike."

A few hours later big steel began banking furnaces of its Chicago-area subsidiaries. A spokesman said no curtailment had yet been ordered in the Pittsburgh district.

Storms Kill 17

MADRID (AP)—Torrential rains and an electric storm Wednesday brought death to 17 persons and caused widespread property damage in southern Spain.

Restrict Imports

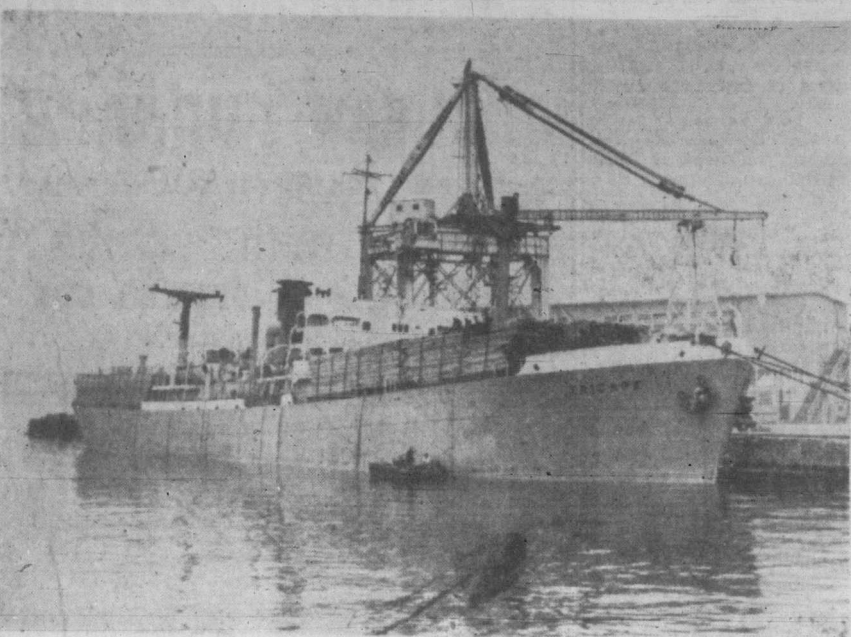

OTTAWA (BUP)—A number of iron and steel products went on the government's import control list today as part of Canada's drive to conserve foreign exchange. An announcement by Trade Minister C. D. Labor Rejects Vote Challenge

LONDON (UP)—The Labor government rejected today Winston Churchill's challenge to hold an early election and suggested in a caustic, sweeping denunciation of the Conservative leader that he retire from public life.

The Labor Party's roughest political orator, Health Minister Aneurin Bevan, belabored Churchill with his choicest invective on the third and crucial day of parliamentary debate on devaluation.

Picking up Churchill's election challenge in his attack on the Labor government Wednesday, Bevan said:

"Mr. Churchill threw out a challenge, but as far as we are concerned we are not proposing to do at the moment any more than give the leadership to the British people that they need."

Bevan called Churchill a peddler of "flatulent generalities," a "sub-editor" of history who discarded unpleasant facts, a "decoy" rather than a leader of the Conservative Party, a "denigrator" (defamer) of British efforts, a man who fails to tell the truth in his "political diatribes" and a discredited man who would be cast aside like a soiled glove if the Conservatives regained power.

Churchill Protests 'Lie'

The word "lie" was bandied about, Bevan said at the outset he welcomed the chance "to prick this bloated bladder of lies upon the poniard of truth."

Churchill snapped back that the word "lie" should not be used in the House.

A tense situation was resolved by a ruling from the Speaker that Bevan was reciting a quotation, not applying the word to Churchill.

Bevan, fiery Welshman rated by some as the peer of Churchill in the use of invective, accused the Conservative leader of using every opportunity to deprecate British efforts.

"Does he not realize the damage he is doing in Great Britain?" Bevan cried. "Would it not be better, if he finds it impossible in his polemical diatribes, to avoid misrepresenting the situation, that he should not tarnish his reputation further and should retire from public life?"

LATEST

Upheld On Vote

Britain In Five-Year Trade Agreement With Czechoslovakia

LONDON (CP)—Britain Wednesday signed a five-year trade pact with Czechoslovakia. The United Kingdom will gain important non-dollar imports as well as payments from the Czechs for British property affected by Czech nationalization and expropriation following the Communist coup.

The New York Times, in a London dispatch, said today Britain's first trade and financial agreement with Communist Czechoslovakia was finally concluded when it became apparent the Czechs' economic necessities could not be satisfied by integration into the Soviet economic bloc.

The eastern European country agreed to pay £10,000,000 toward retirement of various debts to Britain, some of which date back to before the war.

Timmins Shaken By Big Blast

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Residents rushed to the streets of this northern Ontario gold-mining community shortly after noon today as the ground rumbled and houses shook from a shock or explosion of undetermined origin. Reports indicated the tremor might have been caused by an air blast in one of the area's 11 gold mines.

Police reported the ground in the northern part of the city of 30,000 persons and in nearby Schumacher had shaken for about 15 seconds between 12.30 and 12.35 p.m., C.S.T.

Other reports said glasses and jars toppled from shelves. Neither police nor fire departments reported any serious injury to persons. Property damage was believed slight.

NOT USING POWDER

Offices of the mining companies adjacent to the city reported no major blasting in their properties today.

Mining company officials said an air blast is a spontaneous explosion in an underground excavation usually caused by the shifting of a rock mass.

Jack Brady who lives in the north end of Timmins said "it felt as though the house had fallen about three feet."

Mrs. C. Kennedy, another north end resident, described the tremor as three muffled reports followed by three sharp "thuds." She said it sounded as if someone had lifted a building and then dropped it.

Atlantic Fliers, Missing 13 Days Reported Alive

NEW YORK (AP)—Transworld Airlines announced today it had received a dispatch from its Paris office indicating two Italian fliers, missing since Sept. 17 on a trans-Atlantic flight, are adrift in their plane near the Bahamas Islands.

The fliers, John M. Brondello and Camillo Bartoglio, were on a planned non-stop flight from the Azores to New York in a single-engine plane.

The U.S. Coast Guard said an army plane had left San Juan, Puerto Rico, for the location given—a point due east of the middle section of the Bahamas group.

The Coast Guard said the blind message said: "Alive drifting near Bahamas. Insufficient food. Radio inoperative. No search planes sighted."

Mackenzie Home To Be Canadian Museum

TORONTO (CP)—The home of William Lyon Mackenzie, leader of the short-lived 1837 rebellion in Upper Canada, is being turned into a historical museum.

Former Prime Minister King, grandson of Mackenzie, has sent word that he hopes to attend the formal opening of the museum in November.

The three-story house faces on Bond Street in central Toronto.

No Coal Carried By These

Every so often, John L. Lewis, boss of 480,000 members of the United Mine Workers, "sets up" a shot like this for U.S. photographers. These lines of empty coal cars in the rail yards at Cincinnati, O., have grown longer as the mine workers continued their "no welfare, no work" strike. Thousands of railroad workers face layoffs because of the coal strike.

Riflemen Ambush Convoy Of Coal Trucks In Strike War

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hidden riflemen ambushed a 14-truck coal convoy on Snow-shoe Mountain in central Pennsylvania today, firing a dozen shots at the non-union truckers. No one was reported hurt.

Earlier dynamite blasts had wrecked non-union mine tipples in Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

It was the fourth straight day of violent outbreaks in the coal fields.

State Policeman Howard Hancock said no pickets were in sight when the heavily-guarded convoy began its slow descent of the mountain.

"We didn't know we were being fired upon at first," said State Police Corp. Robert Daily. "After the first few shots we realized what it was and stopped the caravan."

He led a detail of troopers into the thickly-wooded area, found no one.

The explosion at Butler County, Ky., caused several thousand dollars' worth of damage.

William F. Minton, president of U.M.W. District 28, told a reporter "No" when asked if he thought the union miners would return to the pits in Virginia mines before a contract is signed.

Returns From Wilds

TALKEETNA, Alaska (BUP)—An exhausted hunter of Talkeetna, marooned by a plane crash, stumbled into this remote outpost Wednesday night after surviving for 22 days with only a rifle, six cartridges, a cigarette lighter and matches.

Pat O'Donnell, 36, was to be flown to Anchorage today. He was the third member of an ill-fated moose-hunting party to reach safety and civilization.

His successful struggle for survival in one of the wildest, most remote regions of Alaska gave new hope to rescue groups continuing the search for the fourth member of the party, bush pilot Francis Brownfield.

R.C.A.F. Lancaster To 'Mother' Squad Of Flying Farmers

EDMONTON (BUP)—A Lancaster bomber of the R.C.A.F. was en route today to Cutbank, Montana, to "mother" 50 to 80 light aircraft of the "Flying Farmers of Montana" on an aerial tour of Alberta.

The Montana flying farmers had accepted an invitation of the Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge flying clubs to look over Alberta as part of a good-neighbor policy.

The Lancaster will escort the swarm of light planes, carrying about 200 persons, to Lethbridge tomorrow. On Saturday they will continue to Calgary, and are scheduled to arrive in Edmonton at 11.30 a.m., Sunday.

After the Edmonton visit, some of the flying farmers plan to look over the north country. Others will visit Saskatchewan while the remainder return home.

Union Chiefs Say Walkout Appears Sure

PITTSBURGH (UP)—This nation's steel mills ground toward a complete shutdown today as the U.S. Steel Corporation and the C.I.O. United Steelworkers launched a last-ditch effort to settle their bitter pension-insurance dispute.

Top government mediators stood by, but maintained a hands-off policy as U.S. Steel and the union voluntarily went into their next conference this afternoon.

Hope was fading for a settlement before the union's 12:01 a.m. Saturday strike deadline. U.S. Steel executives reportedly met this morning and decided to hold firm to their position that workers must contribute to any welfare and social insurance fund.

New York union officials met briefly with Bethlehem Steel Co. When the meeting recessed, the union men said a walkout appeared inevitable.

BANKING FURNACES

Steel firms across the country started banking furnaces, emptying open hearths and closing coke ovens in preparation for closing.

U.S. Steel said all of its 27 iron furnaces in the Pittsburgh-Youngstown district would be down within 24 hours. Wheeling Steel announced its steel furnaces would be empty by midnight tonight. Bethlehem, Inland and other companies also were cutting back.

General Election In Manitoba Nov. 10; Nominations Oct. 27

WINNIPEG (CP)—Premier D. L. Campbell of Manitoba said today a provincial election will be held Thursday, Nov. 10. The announcement came following a cabinet meeting this morning at which an order-in-council was passed dissolving the Legislature.

Calling of the election came on the heels of Wednesday's meeting of the Manitoba Liberal-Progressive Association which supported coalition. Some members of the Liberal-Progressive Party, principal bloc in the Coalition, had urged that the party break away from coalition government.

Nominating day will be Oct. 27. "Because of the likelihood of the freeze-up or in-between season affecting distribution of voting material in Rupert's Land constituency," said the announcement "that election will be deferred until Dec. 14."

The premier, arguing for continuance of coalition at Wednesday's meeting, said he considered it "the surest guarantee of a strong, stable and sound government for Manitoba."

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Bootleggers reportedly are hiding their home brew under cabbage and hauling it out at night to sell to patrons at a nearby drive-in theatre.

Police said today they are investigating.

They said the information came to light when they looked into complaints that up to 300 people a night were clambering through neighboring lots to get free looks at movies.

Noronic Exempt From Rule Requiring Fire Bulkheads

TORONTO (CP)—Earl Roettger, a survivor of the Ss. Noronic disaster, today described the holocaust as a flash type of fire during which he heard no alarms.

Testifying at the federal inquiry Mr. Roettger, who fled in his pyjamas and a bed sheet down a Jacob's ladder from the burning ship here last Sept. 17, said he was conscious all the while of flashes of fire from lacquer, varnish or paint.

Earlier, two employees of the marine inspection service of the federal transport department had given evidence of the ship's fire protection facilities.

One witness said the Noronic, because of her age, had an exemption from a regulation calling for fire-resistant bulkheads.

A marine inspector, who said all fire equipment was on the ship's main deck during the Noronic's last inspection, was told by the court that for all he knew, the appliances might never have been returned to their proper places.

John Moffatt of Toronto, supervisor of marine inspection, said the Noronic possibly had obtained exemption from fire-resistant bulkheads required under regulations because the change would have affected her stability.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

EXERCISE AND EATS

IF ANYONE should notice that I am walking with a bit of a limp these days, let me assure them that it isn't by accident but by design. For I have been doing a bit of exercising with not altogether happy results to my sacroiliac or something—or whatever it is that is situated in the region of where I have been trying to reduce.

It all happened this way. Along about this time of the year when I go to put the odd summer frock away and take out the two-year-old winter suit, I invariably find that it has shrunk surprisingly in certain areas since I last wore it.

POSES A PROBLEM

THAT discovery immediately poses a problem. Should I put a gusset in the garment or should I take a tuck or two in my tummy to meet the new limits imposed by the seeming shrinkage? It was while wrestling with that problem that I happened to have a public engagement at the Crystal Garden.

After the official part was over, my hostess invited me to tea upstairs. And as we sipped the cup that cheers, the strains of a piano came across the pool.

My curiosity being insatiable, I went and had a look to see the why and the wherefore, and discovered that the rhythmic strains were providing a musical accompaniment to another sort of rhythmic strain—two women were practicing physical jerks.

POINTERS FOR PRACTICE

APPARENTLY quite oblivious of the stares of the few scattered spectators they stretched and swung their limbs, dipped and doubled, writhed and rolled, all in time to the tune. And I watched with interest, trying to get a few pointers for practice, not in the public gaze but in the privacy of my bedroom.

For exercise, it is said by the people who go in for it in a public way, is a toner-up of ill-considered trifles in the shape of flabby muscles, a pepper-upper of peaky personalities, to say nothing of a reducer of spare tires.

JOLLY IT OFF

WATCHING the ease with which those women did their P.T. inspired me to go home, dig up a gramophone record and get to work. I got down on the floor, twisted and tied myself in knots, quirmed and stretched, doubled up and dumped down, trying to jolly my girth into subsiding to the strains of "Buttons and Bows."

While my efforts haven't yet had any appreciable effect by way of lessening the strain on my buttons and bows, it has made me sensitive to the need of lubrication in the more tender parts of my out-moded chassis, and an oiling of the joints whose creaks find echo in my hollow groans.

IN POOR TASTE

SINCE then I have been looking for a more comfortable way of easing myself into last year's garments. Some of my slimmer friends have snottily suggested dieting to alleviate my "em bon point" problem, but they show such poor taste about it. They always want to cut out the very things I can least do without.

One of them even drew my attention to the 46-year-old Russian-born woman in London, England, who recently told the world that she hasn't eaten for 10 years and feels all the better for it. She drinks instead.

Her breakfast consists of a cup of carrot juice, which somehow sounds cold comfort for a winter morning. At lunch, she toys with a glass of the juice of grass and chickweed, possibly diluted with orange and tomato juice. Dinner or supper isn't mentioned, so I presume she desists or dries up. But on going to bed she has her nightcap of water—taken neat.

STATUE AND STATUS

WHEN I read further that she is the wife of a London sculptor, I began to understand. I have a hunch that her juicy diet may have something to do with her desire to inspire him with model ideas for those skinny, fantastic abstractions that pass for art nowadays.

As for me, what with the difficulty of choosing between physical jerks on the bedroom floor and living on chickweed juice, I have decided to stick to my status quo figure even if it does tend to become slightly statuesque—to put it mildly!

JEWEL BOARD

LONDON (CP)—London's famous Hatton Garden jewel market is to have its own bomb and burglar-proof strongroom, the only one of its kind in Britain. More than 1,000 merchants will use the strongroom, where about $40,000,000 worth of jewels will be kept.

WORLD-TRAVELING DOGS

OSLO (CP)—Thirty powerful, slant-eyed huskies arrived here from Greenland recently on the first leg of a journey which will take them almost from pole to pole. They have been purchased for the joint Norwegian-Swedish-British Antarctic expedition scheduled to leave Oslo this fall.

I.W.A. Condemns Actions Of Soviet In Abusing Veto

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 100,000-strong International Workers of America Wednesday condemned the Soviet Union's abuse of veto in United Nations Assembly and reaffirmed its support to the European Recovery Plan.

Delegates to the I.W.A.'s five-day 13th annual convention gave their support to maintenance of E.R.P. in a seven-point resolution passed with only three dissenters, calling for a United States foreign policy designed to achieve lasting peace.

They agreed to press for "early conclusion of peace treaties with Germany and Japan and other former enemy countries," and placed on record their approval of the C.I.O.'s opposition to recognition of the government of "Fascist Franco Spain."

The resolution hit out at the Soviet Union's charges of American war-mongering and declared they were completely unfounded.

In this regard, delegates called upon the United Nations to pursue its efforts for international disarmament and atomic energy control. They admitted, however, that the United States could not disarm without the program being carried out on a universal basis.

Labor's contribution to these points was placed right in the delegates' laps by C.I.O. political action committee member George Roberts of Los Angeles, Calif.

British Lords Vote Devaluation Down; Makes No Difference

LONDON (Reuter)—The government was defeated Wednesday night on its devaluation policy in the predominantly Conservative House of Lords by 93 votes to 24.

The defeat was on a government motion asking in effect for a vote of confidence in its financial and economic policy.

This defeat does not affect the government's position as the House of Lords has no power over financial matters. These are reserved to the House of Commons.

But observers considered it would further embitter the already tense atmosphere between the two houses over the powers of the House of Lords.

The government's motion—the same as that being debated in the Commons—asked the Lords among other things to approve its devaluation policy and the agreement reached in the sterling-dollar talks in Washington.

"THE NEW PACK IS AT YOUR GROCER'S"

"FRESH FROM THE GARDEN"

"CANADA'S MOST POPULAR HEALTH DRINK"

"AN EXCELLENT DIETARY SOURCE OF VITAMINS A AND C"

4 OUT OF 5 PREFER

Libby's "Gentle Press" TOMATO JUICE

Recently 390 grocers made a consumer preference test in 390 grocery stores across Canada. In 81 stores Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice and the next most popular brand were offered at the same price. In four out of five instances, the shopper selected Libby's.

The reason for this outstanding preference is easy to understand. Libby's Tomato Juice is processed by Libby's patented "Gentle Press" method which extracts only the purest, sweetest juice from fancy, field-ripened tomatoes—tomatoes which are thin-skinned and heavy with juice, the result of 37 years of seed selection by Libby experts. It takes more tomatoes to fill a tin the "Gentle Press" Libby way, and you can taste the delectable difference.

Libby's has that smell-of-the-garden freshness because the juice is packed the same day the tomatoes are picked, and nothing is added except a little salt. If you've ever walked into a garden and enjoyed the sun-ripened goodness of the reddest, juiciest tomato on the vine, you know the unsurpassed flavour of Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice.

Your grocer has just received the 1949 pack of Libby's, fresh from the garden. Order your supply, and serve it regularly. Libby's is Canada's favourite health drink—economical, and as good as it is good for you.

In 309 stores where distress merchandise—tomato juice reduced in price to clear—was displayed in competition with Libby's, 3 out of 5 shoppers preferred Libby's.

Actor Bogart Summoned On Charge Of Assault

NEW YORK (UP)—Movie tough guy Humphrey Bogart was served with a summons charging simple assault today for roughing up a couple of New York glamour girls in the swank El Morocco night club.

The summons, obtained against the screen star by model Robin Roberts, was served on Bogart in Manhattan's night room by a private detective, accompanied by a city policeman.

Miss Roberts' attorney, Chester S. Mandel, said the summons was returnable in mid-Manhattan court tomorrow.

Service of the summons climaxed an hours-long search for Bogart in Manhattan's night spots Wednesday night and early today.

Miss Roberts, a pretty brunette, said Bogart sent her sprawling on El Morocco's plush carpet early Sunday morning when she playfully picked up a large panda doll he had put in a chair at his table.

Bogart and Bill Seeman, a playboy pal, had entered the night club, each carrying a panda doll. They seated the dolls at their table and introduced them as their "girl friends."

Bogart allegedly shoved Miss Roberts and Peggy Rabe, a banker's daughter, around whom the girls playfully picked up the dolls.

Ford Labor Peace Settlement May Aid In Steel, Coal

DETROIT (UP)—The contract settlement between Ford Motors and the C.I.O. United Auto Workers was believed today to point the way to possible peace in the nationwide steel and coal disputes.

The Ford settlement was within the framework set up by the presidential fact-finding board that investigated the steel dispute and recommended that the C.I.O. steelworkers should abandon demands for a pay boost but that the companies should finance a pension and welfare program.

The agreement, providing $100-monthly pensions for 115,000 Ford workers, was expected to act as a possible lever to bring about a steel pact.

That, in turn, would aid in bringing about peace in the coal strike since John L. Lewis has intimated strongly that he wanted to wait for a steel agreement before signing a United Mine Workers contract with operators.

The Ford settlement, after protracted negotiations, was reached at 2:10 a.m. today.

Two-Year Sentence On Guilty Plea In Kidnapping

VANCOUVER (CP)—Paul Pankowe, 21, was sentenced Wednesday to two years in the New Westminster Penitentiary for the kidnapping of Ernest Conduit, elderly Vancouver engraver.

The young man, who said movies and books on crime inspired the bizarre case, was sentenced to six months concurrent for obtaining money by false pretences—the charge that led to his arrest on the more serious count.

Pankowe pleaded guilty to both counts before Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson. Pankowe's brother, William Pankowe, is still sought on a warrant charging him with kidnapping.

The case created a sensation in Vancouver last January when Conduit was found chained to a bed in a rented Dunbar district home. For a week two men attempted to force him to engrave a plate for making bogus $20 bills.

Taken prisoner when he went to the rented home Jan. 5, Conduit was held in chains until Jan. 12 when suspicious neighbors called police. Conduit still showed signs of the harrowing ordeal weeks later.

CRIME MOVIE

Pankowe's statement, part of which was read by Prosecutor Stewart McMorran, said the reason for abducting the engraver was that he had seen a crime movie and had heard stories of making counterfeit notes.

He said he obtained a toy gun. When Conduit called at the house, Pankowe said, he and his brother forced him inside.

Mr. McMorran said the engraver was not molested but was held in confinement and given regular meals. During this time he was chained to a bed.

Pankowe was arrested Aug. 11 when spotted in an East Hastings cafe by a woman. He offered no resistance.

Magistrate Matheson recommended that Pankowe be given psychiatric treatment after the youth's counsel, N. J. Bartman, submitted a physician's report terming Pankowe "of very low mentality."

Locke-Rees Golf Match Proposed

JOHANNESBURG (AP)—A Johannesburg businessman said he is ready to put up $2,000 ($6,200) for a challenge golf match between Bobby Locke, British Open champion, and Dai Rees of Wales, British match-play champion.

Locke and his sponsor, Ted Lawrence, said they are prepared to fly to Britain any time for a 72-hole match on any British championship course.

In Leeds, England, Rees said he would have to see the proposition on paper before making any decision.

Only Three Poison Victims Still In Nanaimo Hospital

NANAIMO—Only three of the 10 workmen struck with sickness this week from what is believed due to food poisoning, were still in Nanaimo General Hospital today. Hospital attendants reported the three patients in good condition and that they will probably be released shortly.

Seven of the workmen, all working at H. R. MacMillan Sulphate Mill, being constructed seven miles south of Nanaimo, were released Wednesday.

Investigations were continuing today in the poisoning case. The workmen suffered stomach pains after eating either ham sandwiches or canned sardines.

Drowned In River

NORTH VANCOUVER (UP)—The Capilano River claimed the life of a small North Vancouver boy Wednesday. Provincial police reported today that 25-month-old Paul William Murphy was drowned in a deep pool of the river. The body was discovered after he had been missing from his home.

Russia Cancels Pact With Tito; Others May Follow

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Russia scrapped her friendship treaty with Yugoslavia today, declaring Premier Marshal Tito's regime has lined up with "foreign imperialist circles."

The decision ending the alliance signed in 1945 was disclosed in a Soviet note to Yugoslavia. It was broadcast by the Moscow radio.

The note declared the Budapest treason trial of former Hungarian Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk, sentenced to death last Saturday, disclosed Yugoslavia had been carrying on hostile activity against the Soviet Union.

Rajk was accused specifically of plotting with Yugoslav and U.S. agents to overthrow the Moscow-backed Communist government in Hungary. Marshal Tito denounced the trial as a

Equipment Transfer Arranged To Speed Hope-Princeton Road

A transfer of heavy road-building equipment by Emil Anderson & Company to W. C. Arnett & Co. Ltd. in an effort to get the Hope-Princeton Road completed before the snow flies was announced today by Works Minister E. C. Carson.

Mr. Carson arranged for the transfer during a visit to the construction project Wednesday. Arnett has to complete two miles of the highway before it can be used.

The works department hopes to have the road opened late next month. No date has yet been set for the opening ceremony, for which plans are already mapped, but Mr. Carson said he may be in a position to fix a date next week following another proposed visit to the project.

Anderson has almost finished up his phase of the big project. But rather than move his equipment out he is going to make it available to Arnett.

This equipment, said Mr. Carson, includes four power shovels, eight big earth-moving machines, six bulldozers and a sloping machine.

All but 10 miles of the highway has been paved and is ready for traffic. Of the 10 remaining miles the roadway has been fashioned in more than eight miles.

Mr. Carson said that the remaining less than two miles is in various stages of completion. At several places, however, the work is bogged down by mud. Mr. Carson said that crews have to bail out waterlogged material which, were it dry, would be used satisfactorily in building the foundation of the highway.

In place of this waterlogged material other material, such as it rocks, must be hauled in.

Canada In Trouble If Britain Stops Buying, Says Bevan

LONDON (CP)—Health Minister Aneurin Bevan said today that if Britain stopped buying Canadian products the United Kingdom's dollar crisis "would become a Canadian financial crisis."

First government speaker on the final day of the three-day devaluation debate in the House of Commons, Bevan said:

"If it is a crime in the British government to fail to balance its dollar purchases by its dollar sales, then what about Canada? Canada has never done it, either under a Liberal or a Conservative administration."

Bevan claimed Canada and the United States recognize that Britain's economic difficulties are not due to defects in the Labor government's administration but, "on the contrary, they see they are the effects of two world wars and that British recovery so far has been magnificent."

Majority Award Rejects Boost For Paper Makers

A conciliation board, in a majority award, recommended today that no general wage increase be made by the Westminster Paper Co. Ltd., New Westminster, for its employees.

T. R. Seidick, chairman, and Sherwood Lett, member, reported they were of the opinion that, in view of the uncertainty of the market for and marketing conditions relating to the products produced by the company, no general increase of wages is justified at this time.

In a minority report, J. F. Maquire recommended a general boost of at least six cents per hour to bring the rates up to a parity with those being paid by other pulp and paper converting industries throughout the province.

The employees were represented by the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers Local 456.

The board unanimously recommended that the company pay for two additional statutory holidays, to be agreed on by both parties, and pay two weeks' holiday after three years' employment.

The contractors now are hauling in material at the rate of 4,000 yards a day.

The section yet to be completed is on the western slope to Allison Pass.

Mr. Carson said that concrete pouring has been completed on all the bridges for the highway.

He said that the contractors needed two weeks of good weather to complete the fashioning of the road way. If they don't get it, he said, some sort of a roadway would be pushed through so that the highway would be open for traffic next month.

Construction of the highway has been underway for four years now. The project is costing several millions of dollars and is the second largest of two huge road building projects started by the provincial government immediately following the war.

The Hope-Princeton road, projected more than 100 years ago, will provide the first direct highway link between the southern Okanagan Valley and the coast.

Body Of Sabotage Victim, Mrs. Guay, To Be Exhumed

QUEBEC (CP)—Capt. J. Alphonse Matte of the provincial police announced today that body of Mrs. Albert Guay, one of the 23 victims in the Quebec air disaster Sept. 9 will be exhumed for post-mortem examination.

Capt. Matte said he had received the exhumation order from Noel Dorion, prosecutor in the Crown's case against Mrs. Guay's husband. The young jeweler is charged with murdering his 28-year-old wife by arranging for a time-bomb to be placed aboard the aircraft, sending her and 22 other victims to destruction.

The police official said it had not yet been decided when the body would be exhumed.

The latest announcement came as provincial police were working on the theory that two "dupes" were used in making the home-made bomb which caused the air disaster.

Police theorized that the "dupes" were Mrs. Arthur Pitre, 41-year-old friend of Guay, and her 47-year-old paralyzed brother, Genereux Ruest.

Ruest, whose name means "generous" in English, was said by a high police official to have "unknowingly" made "a tiny mechanical part" for the bomb.

Demers Committed

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Tony Demers, former Montreal Canadiens hockey player, was committed for trial today on a charge of murdering his girl friend. He was charged in connection with the death of Mrs. Anita Robert of Coaticook following a drinking party. She died in a hospital at Magog, where she was taken by Demers. Hospital authorities said she appeared to have been badly beaten.

FRANKFURT (UP)—The Berlin airlift will end at midnight tomorrow after 462 days of operation, the U.S. Air Force announced today.

The bridge of planes that beat the Soviet land blockade of Western Berlin had been scheduled to end Oct. 31, but officials said it will cease operations a month early because sufficient stockpiles of supplies have been accumulated in Berlin to meet any emergency.

THOSE HE DOES NOT MEET

ON PREVIOUS OCCASIONS THE SUGgestion has been advanced in these columns that a higher percentage of civic voters might be persuaded to mark ballots at annual elections if district polling stations were established. The existence of only one station—in the city Market Building—we believe, is a material factor in reducing the number of those who take the trouble to vote. With the apathy this situation dis-closes, we do not agree. At the same time it is apparent that some means must be found to encourage a greater number of people to use the franchise in municipal elections. Minority decisions have become the rule, not the exception, on issues of vital importance to our ratepayers and householders merely because the responsibility and privilege of voting is being ignored by too many people.

We recapitulate our stand in view of the City Council's decision this week against the opening of district polling stations, following the recommendation of Returning Officer Frank Hunter. With the excellent job
Mr. Hunter does as returning officer, no one should complain. But we suggest he has missed the point when, as one of his reasons for opposing the district polling station idea, he intimates that he has reached his conclusions in part from the very substantial contact he has with voters both as city clerk and returning officer. Public concern is not exercised in respect of those voters the returning officer meets. But it is aroused by contemplation of those he does not meet —the men and women who do not go to the central polling station and who, in one vital particular, are letting democracy go by default.

NO 'MINORITIES'

IT HAS BECOME COMMON IN SOME quarters to think of this Dominion as containing a number of "minority populations" which traditionally are set apart as not belonging to the whole. The German minority, the Ukrainian minority and others come readily to mind. And it is equally evident that in the minds of some Canadians—despite the fact that more than 30 per cent of the population is involved—the French-speaking portion of Canada's people is so regarded. Adoption of such an attitude by one section of the nation toward any other segment is not likely to build a strong and cohesive Canada. Racial antagonism is fostered, sectional jealousies are encouraged, and religious intolerance—the usual com-mitant of racial antipathy—is incited.

With these facts in mind, the appeal voiced in the Commons at Ottawa by Mr.
J. L. Gibson, the Independent member for Comox-Alberni, is well worth consideration.
The Vancouver Island representative urged this week that the time has come "to forget there is a minority in Canada." And he added, "I am not ready to concede that there is a minority. I believe we are all Canadians."

That is an attitude that all of us might well adopt with profit to ourselves and our country. Every man and woman of good faith who holds Canadian citizenship is a Canadian worthy of all the common rights and privileges; none should be stigmatized as being of a minority group, with the implication that he or she is deserving of less than full consideration.

The responsibility of individuals, of course, is equally important. No matter what their racial origin, their duty is to merge with the mass of the population in upholding the political, legal and sociological systems of Canada, using such cultural heritage as they may have to enrich the national life. Canadians should not fence themselves off in "minority groups," nor should they fence off others. The work of this nation is of sufficient magnitude to permit of no time or energy being lost in inward discussion along racial lines.

'SOFT, WHITE HEADS'

FOR ONE DOLLAR, AN ASSOCIATED Press item states, the United States citizen can purchase a rubber mask that can be pulled over the buyer's head and face and transform him or her into another person—at least in appearance. To this statement a psychiatrist adds: "Many people are dissatisfied with themselves, with their personalities. Wearing a mask does two things for them. First, it hides their faces. It enables them to become anonymous. Second, it enables them to play at being someone else—someone more glamorous, perhaps."

Here, it would seem, is a new variant of escapism. But it merely serves to remind us of an old vaudeville joke. One character asked another how he managed to have such soft white hands. The second replied he wore rubber gloves when he retired for the night. Which brought forth the query: "Do you sleep in a bathing cap, too?" The psychiatrist may have something in the explanation he has given. But if he is correct, there must be a disturbing number of soft heads on this continent even before they draw rubber masks over them.

BEACH POLLUTION

THE WARNING OF THE PUBLIC health committee to the current convention of the British Columbia Medical Association here, that beach pollution in this province is "a real menace to health," comes with particular force to Victoria. During the summer now drawing to its close, two of the most attractive bays in the entire region have been declared unsafe for bathing. The action taken by Victoria to remedy the situation is generally known. The department concerned now awaits the arrival of a special mechanical device which will break up solids and, it is hoped, by that means eliminate the danger.

The recommendation of the medical association group that a committee be formed to study the question and draft plans to control the situation may be of little value to this community. It should, however, be of substantial importance to those regions now suffering from pollution but, to varying degrees, unaware of the conditions which prevail on their shores. The danger, the committee reported, is not confined to areas of concentrated population.

But even here the findings of the medical group may provoke constructive thought.
Disposal of sewage at sea has long been accepted as the most generally effective way of handling waste. Has the time been reached when that outlook has become obsolete? Must our experts now consider seriously some other method of dealing with the sewage problem?

The plan evolved for Victoria—the addition of a mechanical device at the outfall—is regarded by authorities here as an essential first step in any further scheme of treatment, should such be necessary. Whatever the outcome, our experience should be of material value to other localities on the Pacific Coast which must face the issue raised at the medical convention. And the situation should not be allowed to progress to a point at which serious diseases are encouraged by apathetic attitudes on the part of the public to a vital health question.

VANISHING ISLANDS

AS THOUGH POLITICAL INSTABILITY in some parts of the far-flung British Empire was not enough, geographical instability has made its appearance to plague colonial officials. There is, for instance, the little matter of the islets of Fou and Avocacaire, of the St. Brandon group in the Indian Ocean. Fou disappeared last year during a settlement of the earth's crust, and has not been seen since. Avocaire also vanished from view but afterwards reappeared.
The island of Falcon, in the Pacific's Tonga group, however, has been causing even more trouble. It has bobbed up and down three times and at the present moment is missing. Such antics should not be tolerated in any well run colonial system. Perhaps a sizeable grant from the British Treasury, in the manner of most postwar assistance, would enable these islands at least to keep their heads above water.

lumbia car license plates peeled off through some fault of workmanship or material last year, we renewed our advocacy of perpetual plates—identification which would consist of the same numerals from the time the car went on the road to the time it went to the boneyard. The inconvenience to owners and motor vehicle branch officials occasioned by the bad paint job was merely a minor factor in the case.
Our main arguments were that a permanent license would furnish a continuous identification for a car, would avoid confusion on the part of owners who might have difficulty in recalling the annually changed numbers when reporting theft of their automobiles, and would justify the use of possibly more expensive metal in the manufacture of the identifying plaque.

For these reasons we endorse the idea now under study to adopt the system of perpetual plates. The mere fact that manufacture of new ones each year provides work for inmates of the Oakalla Prison Farm is insufficient justification for the constant changes.

TREADMILL

BRITAIN'S GOVERNMENT HAS MOVED quickly to meet any threat of increased inflation as a result of devaluation of the pound. The tax on profits has been raised from 25 per cent to 30 per cent, and wage earners have been warned that their incomes must remain at current levels. This action, more or less forced on the Government by its drastic recovery program through devaluation is to be successful, will undoubtedly raise protests from businessmen and from Labor. And the importance of the latter development must be measured in terms of the imminence of a general election in the United Kingdom.

The situation suggests that there must be times when any government, and particularly a Socialist one, would gladly be out of the business of planning and regulating the lives of every citizen. Once prices are fixed, wages must be controlled. If wages are controlled, then profits and unearned increments must similarly be restricted. Under such circumstances trade must be supervised, exports and imports guided along certain specified lines, raw materials and capital goods allocated and even consumers' quotas imposed. There is no end to the list of self-appointed jobs for the government, once the trend gets underway. Little freedoms are lost one by one, until big freedoms become imperilled. This is a dangerous era for the common man —in more ways than one.

Death and taxes are certain. But it is possible to die a painless death.

Walter Lippmann

WHITHER BRITAIN?

THE WAY in which the monetary crisis was handled has jarred the solidarity of the Atlantic community, and has raised questions about British and American intentions which, if they are not answered convincingly, will impair it. The devaluation of a world currency like the pound sterling, though unavoidable, was bound in itself to unsettle the markets and the internal financial position of all of Europe and much of Asia, and of much else besides.
But the business was conducted in such a way as to create the dangerous impression that Britain, Canada and the United States are now an exclusive club within the Atlantic community.

If that impression becomes a general conviction, the fine promises and hopes of the Marshall plan, the Brussels pact, the Atlantic pact and of the European movement will fall in cynicism and suspicion.

NO ONE will suppose that the sterling area crisis could have been handled by a town meeting of the 50-odd governments involved in it. The dollar and the pound sterling are the two key currencies, and therefore intimate and confidential discussions between Washington and London were in the first instance necessary. But since so many other countries were so vitaly concerned, it was necessary to convince them that London and Washington were not acting together behind their backs, but were in fact imbued with the public spirit which, as leading members of the Atlantic community, they have a special obligation to exhibit.

A QUITE candid report of the Bevin-Cripps mission to Washington would have to say that little was done to reassure the other governments, to make them believe, when the chips are down, that London and Washington take their membership in the Atlantic community seriously enough.
A candid report would have to say that too many British officials connected with the mission made known their feeling that what pleased them most about the talks was not the substantive measures agreed upon, but the fact that the talks were exclusive.

Thus the British decision to devalue was communicated to the United States long before it was communicated to the others.
The other finance ministers were taken by surprise. Many of them were caught off base in Washington when they should have been at home to deal with their own forced devaluation.

ALL THAT can, perhaps, be excused as an unfortunate necessity. But the bitter pill was not sweetened by the inspired comment about the success of the secret talks, nor by the leak which, if it was not calculated, was not disavowed, about how the planners of U.S. policy in the State Department had decided to form two groups in the Atlantic world—the one consisting of the English-speaking nations, the other to be formed on the continent with France
"taking the lead."

This fed the two deepest suspicions and anxieties of Europe. The one is that the British Labor government is only meddling in European union, and that its real policy is to cut itself loose from Europe, which is poor and divided, in order to seek salvation in a special union with the United States, which is strong and rich.

THE OTHER suspicion which was fed by the Washington talks is that the United States is deeply tempted to abandon the continent and to embark on a new career as the heir of, or at least as the very senior partner in, the British Empire. Now it is a fact that in the liquidation of the British imperial connections in Asia and the Middle East the United States is bound to assume new responsibilities. But the foreign offices of the whole world are now wondering whether it is the United States' intentions to divide the Atlantic community into two blocks.

LET US PRAY that this is not the British or the American intention. Nor will it be, I believe, when it has been scrutinized and debated. What this "bold concept," as the Alsop brothers described it, would mean to Europe was succinctly outlined a few days later by Mr. David Eccles, one of the distinguished young Conservatives, in a letter to the London Times: "If Britain withdraws from the continent, all Europe must soon be dominated either by the Russians or the Germans. I think by the Germans.
They are recovering fast . . . which way Germany goes, west or east, now hangs in the balance."

WHAT this bold concept would mean for Britain should, once it is explained, insure its rejection. If Britain turns its back upon the great task of uniting the sterling area and the free nations of Europe, she will have refused the mission and declined the only destiny in which her greatness can be renewed. In a "union" between the Atlantic economic power of the United States and of the British economy as it is today, there can be no true partnership of equals.
No amount of fact and good will could disguise or long prevent the inexorable consequence of such a union: the reduction of the United Kingdom to an American dependency in which Americans called the tune.
The British nation is not, we may be confident, prepared to resign and to retire as a great power in the world, and to be pensioned off by the United States.

FOR THIS conception of their future is the nadir of defeatism, appeasement, and of moral surrender—and it is an economic monstrosity as well.

Heavier, Faster And Farther

By DOUGLAS LARSEN From Washington

BY ITS announcement that it will have the B-52 jet bomber "available" in 1954 to take the place of the B-36, the Air Force modestly admits that it has accomplished one of the most astonishing jobs of aircraft development in history.

HEAVY BOMBER

The amazing accomplishment logically predicted for the new bomber is its long range. It is classified as a "heavy bomber."
According to Air Force specifications that classification means that it must have a minimum range of 5,000 miles. The radius of operation of the best jet bombers flying today is between 800 and 1,200 miles.

But the Air Force is actually committed to build into the B-52 a range of twice the minimum for heavy bombers. The B-36 has been sold to the public and to top defense officials as capable of flying 10,000 pounds of bombs 10,000 miles.

The whole elaborate theory of intercontinental bombing which the Air Force experts have been selling as the newest element in warfare sits on the ability of one airplane to fly 10,000 pounds 10, 000 miles. And if the B-52 is going to take the place of the B-36, it presumably is going to be able to do just that.

PROHIBITIVE FACTOR

How the Air Force scientists put that much range into a jet bomber, or even 5,000 miles is what leaves the outside experts gasping. Range has always been the prohibitive factor in the effectiveness of jets. Their tremendous speed has been at the expense of flying shorter distances. It takes a lot of fuel burning very fast to shove a plane through the air at more than 600 miles per hour. And because the planes have to be so streamlined to go this fast there just isn't much room in them for fuel.

LONGER RANGE

Another possibility is that jet engines have been developed that don't make a plane go over 600 miles per hour but make it go a longer distance. It could be much faster than the B-36 but not so fast as the jet fighters. That compromise would also be acceptable. The final possibilities are the improvement or development of new fuels and the invention of much more efficient jet engines with as much speed as they now have.

Economic Comedy

By LOUIS MILLIGAN

A FRIEND who had just returned from a motor tour in the United States told me of a "funny" incident he had witnessed during his visit to Hollywood. It seems that part of a motion picture was being staged on one side of a street, and the cameras and lights had to be set up on the opposite sidewalk.
Electric cables were laid loosely across the surface of the street pavement, along which motor traffic was passing to and fro.
The director of the picture suggested that the carpenters, who were standing by, should lay planks on either side of the cable.

SEPARATE JOBS

After some consultation, the carpenters decided that, according to union rules, it was not their job to lay the planks; that was the property-men's job. So the shooting of the picture had to be held up until the property men were brought and the planks duly laid in position. But, with the jarring of the traffic, the planks were jostled out of position, and the director suggested that they might be secured by a few spikes. The property men, however, said that spike-driving was a carpenter's job. As the carpenters had disappeared in the meantime, they had to be brought back, and after considerable delay the shooting of the picture proceeded.

SEASONAL WORK

Bricklaying, of course, is seasonal work, and it is only right and fair that the men should be paid high wages in order to make up for the slack or no work periods. But, at least, they might render a good day's work for a good day's pay, and thus get on with the job of providing reasonably-priced homes for themselves and all other workers.

STARTING EVERY DAY

Financial Post
There is a rather widespread belief, here and in the United States, that the expansion of so-called big business is making things tough indeed for the little fellow to get started. But the facts don't agree.

Because they are big and are everywhere we hear much of the big fellows. We see much of their branch stores, their service stations, or their equipment. For generations we have seen their names in our newspapers and magazines. But until they grow up and become big, few people outside the immediate neighborhood hear about Smith, Jones or Brown who started a corner store, or two-by-four factory, or cross roads tourist stand a few years ago. Messrs. Smith, Jones and Brown, however, are starting new businesses every day and are finding the job no more difficult than their grandfathers did.

BUSINESS DEPRESSION

A London magazine, "The New and a friend, Henley, were interested, attracted little attention at first. One rainy day when Wells and Henley stood looking cession passed by.

"Bet you a pound," said Wells,
"that there goes our sub-

TRANSOCEANIC

TOURNAMENT
Christian Science Monitor
A cat may look at a queen.
And a sheriff may play with a king. Do you ask for proof?
Well, Deputy Sheriff Pat Bliss of Seattle, Washington, has been playing chess by mail with King Abdullah of Transjordan for the past three years.

We don't ask how it started.
Chess has long been the great leveler, where the humblest peasant may take a queen and the crowned monarch may bow before one of his own pawns. We simply note that while empires topple and time dashes on, the old, slow, patient, deliberate games of chess provides king and commoner alike with what William James might call the "moral equivalent of war."

All's fair, they say, in love and war. But this sort of combat has to be kept on the square.

HAMS AND EGG

Toronto Globe and Mail
When a man sits down and addresses himself to his impressive and classic breakfast of ham and eggs, he may now salute it for other than gastro-nomical reasons. He may, with a new-found respect, honor the antiquity of his menu, for his ancestors 100,000 years ago set him the precedent for his succulent meal.

A Pretoria dispatch reports that scientists have found in the "cave of hearths" the ashes of a Stone Age fire which contained not only a well-made axe, but the mineralized remains of a pig's teeth and an ostrich egg shell. Some forebear of ours had evidently a wondrous appetite. The sumptuous repast, of course, may have been a community breakfast. In that case, the social connotations of ham and eggs are as old as the menu itself.

Paradox

THE MOST idolized woman in the world, America's Eve is by general consent the best looking and among the best dressed.
She has a remarkably fine figure, is exceptionally intelligent, has more privileges, more legal rights and more property than women have held anywhere at any time.

MOST SPOILED

Yet, declares Leland Stowe, in the October Reader's Digest, the American woman (thanks largely to men) is the most spoiled and self-centred in the world, the most aggressive and the least happy. She is less feminine, less interested in husband, home and family than are women of other lands. She is the world's most expensive woman. She is more restless and bored, and is less spiritual and has less individuality than women anywhere else on earth.

These are the conclusions, Stowe says, of a "distinguished array of psychoanalysts and sociologists, of most foreigners who have spent much time in the United States, and of an increasing number of traveled Americans." They are Stowe's conclusions, too, based on observations abroad and at home during 20 years as a foreign correspondent. His article is condensed from Esquire.

Do you doubt that the American woman is the most spoiled and self-centred in the world?
Watch how "presumptuously" she waits for some male to light her cigarette, and note that "the obliging male frequently gets not even a nod for his pains."

If you think American women aren't aggressive, observe them at bargain counters, Stowe suggests. Watch how they capitalize on the "women first" tradition—in railroad stations, elevators, buses and ticket lines. "It is only in America that women have a special prerogative to be rude."

UNIFORM MOLD

Contending that American women lack individuality, Stowe observes that "only the most strong-minded succeed in resisting the terrific pressures toward uniformity. The fashion magazines, the beauticians and Hollywood exert a diabolical influence, leveling down women of all ages."

"The odd thing is that most of America's males seem fairly satisfied," the author concludes.
"Women are what they are because of a lot of unconscious or intentional help from their men."

Score Distribution Of School Tax Levy

A resolution that school taxes be levied "on the whole population of B.C., thereby making each resident responsible for his fair share," was passed at a meeting of ratepayers in Sooke, Tuesday, who protested the system of school taxation.

Education Minister W. T. Straith, K.C., attended and spoke to the meeting, at which Cmdr. Charles Beard, M.L.A. for Esquimalt, was chairman. C. A. Helgesen introduced the resolution.

The preamble spoke of increased education costs which in the last few years "had leapt out of all bounds." Members contended the land on which school taxes were levied had not increased in size or value, and that school taxes were "becoming unbearable to land owners, both by reason of the increase and unfairness of distribution."

Spacious Community Hall Being Built At Cordova Bay

"By the time we are finished we will have a community hall, I am told, that no contractor would put up for less than $40,000," said an official of the Cordova Bay Community Club today in regard to the new bay entertainment centre that is in the making.

Being constructed off Sutcliffe Road, the hall will be a spacious structure, 130x75 feet, and will play a valuable role in the life of the community, which has grown tremendously in the last 10 years.

The footings of the building have been completed and it is hoped that all the concrete work will have been finished before the end of October.

The main part of the hall will be able to handle basketball games, three courts for badminton and other indoor sports. It will also be able to accommodate large crowds for dances and other major functions on the bay social program.

There will be a large stage for concerts and other presentations. A balcony overlooking the main floor is in the plans.

Basement will have a furnace and small meeting room and a kitchen at one end.

Funds for the building are being obtained by various means, including a monthly pledge system of donations by bay residents, from community club functions and other gifts of money and materials.

Harry Savage, club official, said the club will welcome any donation of materials to help the construction of the building.

Manitoba Appears Set For Election As Liberals Meet

WINNIPEG (BUP) — Premier D. L. Campbell took over as leader of the Manitoba Liberal Party today and prepared to set the date for an early provincial election.

Mr. Campbell, who succeeded the present federal justice minister Stuart Garson as Premier last year, was unanimously elected Wednesday night at a party convention whose 800 delegates also endorsed continuation of the province's Coalition government.

The convention was the first to be held since Mr. Garson entered federal politics as Liberal Member of Parliament for Marquette, Man.

The consensus among delegates before they started trekking home was that while Mr. Campbell made no prior announcement about it, he would set the date for a provincial general election next Monday.

It was expected the voters would be called to the polls late this fall.

Manitoba's government consists of a working alliance of 25 Liberals, called Liberal Progressives here, nine Conservatives, two Social Crediters and one independent member. The eight-man C.C.F. group is the official opposition.

Appeal Of Woman Guilty Of Drug Charge Dismissed

A conviction of conspiring with three men to possess drugs and a five-year sentence imposed upon a Vancouver woman, whom police claim was the distributor in a huge Vancouver narcotic ring, was upheld by the Court of Appeal.

She was Jackie Allan, who was convicted by an Assize Court jury last May of conspiring with three men to possess drugs. She was sentenced by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

G. V. Pelton, counsel for the prisoner, claimed the woman was not guilty of any conspiracy and when she was seen taking the drugs from under a restaurant table it was only a part of the usual buyer-seller relation in drugs.

Gilbert Hogg, Crown counsel, claimed the evidence showed that Miss Allan was the distributor in a huge Vancouver narcotics ring. He added that she distributed the drugs "in a big way."

Logging Operations At Sarita River End

PORT ALBERNI — Too many hemlock and balsam logs on hand, with little call for the species, was the reason given by company officials for the closure of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Ltd., Sarita River logging camp, one of the largest on the West Coast.

The camp situated about 30 miles from Port Alberni on the east side of Barkley Sound employed about 350 men.

Turning to logging other trees which have a greater demand, the company will open the Franklin River Camp the first of the week. The area is mostly fir and the operation will employ some of the men, let out with the closure of Sarita Camp. Construction work for this year has been suspended by the company.

Government Asks More Than $250,000 For Island Projects

Projects costing more than $250,000 are envisioned for Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands in the supplementary estimates tabled in the House of Commons Wednesday by Finance Minister Abbott.

The largest single item listed for Vancouver Island and the Gulf Islands is $55,000 to continue Victoria harbor dredging. The estimates also include $22,000 for repairs to the William Head breakwater, and a revote of $10,000 to complete repairs, alterations and improvements to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Little Saanich Mountain.

Additions and alterations to the Duncan public building are expected to cost $27,000.

The remainder of the work is for wharves and harbor improvements. These sums are asked: Alice Arm wharf reconstruction, $32,000; Ganges harbor repairs and improvements, $25,000; Madeira Park (Pender Harbor) floats, $7,000; Nanaimo wharf repairs and improvements (to complete), $6,000; Port Alberni, for further dredging, $35,000; Port Renfrew, toward wharf reconstruction, $25,000; and Sturdies Bay (Galiano Island) wharf extension, $18,000.

Three Children Lose Lives In Fire; Mother Injured

OTTAWA (CP)—Three young brothers, one of them lying asleep in his baby carriage, died today in a fire that destroyed a flimsy frame house in south-west Ottawa.

Their mother, Mrs. Rita Lavigne, leaped from a second-story window after a futile attempt to save them.

The dead: Seven-month-old Leonard; Philip, two, and Richard, three.

Mrs. Lavigne is believed to have broken an arm, a leg and several ribs.

Two other sons of Mrs. Lavigne and her husband, Walter Lavigne, had left for school just a few minutes before the fire broke out.

The youngest child was sleeping in a baby carriage just inside the front door.

Houses on either side of the Lavigne home were damaged by the flames.

ATTEMPTED RESCUE

Alex Raymond, a member of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, and 20-year-old Howard Perry tried to fight their way inside to reach the children.

"I opened the front door, but the flames drove me back," Raymond said. "I then got a rake which I gave to young Perry so he could hook out a carriage that was inside the door."

"Suddenly there was a great blast of flame and the whole front of the house took fire. It was at that moment Mrs. Lavigne hurled herself through the second-story window and fell in a heap on the veranda."

Perry said he had almost succeeded in hooking the carriage with the rake "when there was a terrific rush of flames and an explosion of smoke which threw me right off the veranda onto the muddy lawn. I never was able to get that baby, even though this other man had tried hard to help me rescue the child."

Mr. Lavigne, an employee of the Ottawa sanitation department, was at work when the fire started.

Mott Candidate In New Westminster

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—William Mott was unanimously named Liberal standard bearer in the Oct. 24 New Westminster federal by-election by a nominating convention here Wednesday night.

He formerly was Mayor of New Westminster and is a past president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Ron Irvine, runner-up in the June 27 election, will run on the C.C.F. ticket and Maurice Rush, candidate in Vancouver Centre in the last federal election, has been nominated L.P.P. candidate.

Elmore Philpott, Vancouver Sun columnist, has announced his intention of running as an Independent.

The Progressive-Conservatives will choose their candidate Monday.

Senator Tom Reid, whose elevation to the Senate necessitated the by-election, attended the Liberal nominating convention.

Court Dismisses Appeal Against Life Sentence

Appeal Court dismissed an appeal against a life sentence imposed upon Clyde Robertson, convicted on two counts of attempted murder and one of robbery with violence at the Vancouver Assizes last May.

Robertson was found guilty of firing a shotgun at a cab driver and attempting to fire another shot at a policeman. He was sentenced by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane.

G. V. Pelton, Robertson's lawyer, asked for a reduction in sentence on the ground that his client was a married man with four children. He contended that Robertson's action was the result of drink.

Knox Walkem, Crown counsel, told the court there would be a provision for parole after serving a "substantial part" of a life sentence. He said Robertson had a bad record and had not responded to leniency in the past.

South African Woman Ended Water Poison

CAPE TOWN (CP)—An elderly soft-spoken woman, now living quietly among the bulky volumes and microscopes of her white-walled cottage in Capetown, has played a major role in saving thousands of Transvaal cattle and sheep from the highly dangerous algae poisoning on the banks of the Vaaldam Lake, near Johannesburg.

She is Edith Stephens, who until her recent retirement was a lecturer in the botanical department of the University at Capetown. The Royal Society of South Africa recently honored her by publishing a paper on her research on algae poisoning.

The algae, identified by Miss Stephens, was noticed at the Vaaldam when cattle, sheep, horses and dogs began to die along its banks.

Toxicologists found that the deaths were caused by a vigorous water-bloom which extended through 98 per cent of the whole water area of the dam. Thousands of cattle and sheep had died before samples of the algae were sent to Miss Stephens in Capetown.

She suggested immediate treatment with copper sulphate. It worked and the remaining livestock were saved.

He Left Them Alone

DECATUR, Ill. (UP)—Farmer Charles Muirhead searched for nine missing cows on foot, horseback and in an airplane. Friends who helped him look for the cows trampled corn fields and did $300 worth of damage before Muirhead called off the round-up. He said it would be cheaper to forget the cows.

The next morning he found the cows standing outside his barnyard, contentedly mooing and waiting for him to open the gate and let them in.

HAVENHILL, Mass. (UP)—Henry V. H. Champey celebrated his 71st birthday by bicycling 70 miles from here to Boston and back. His recipe for good health is to ride his bicycle 15 miles

Only Five 'Flats' On 1,400-Mile Trip Through Rockies For English Cyclists

A leisurely, two-and-a-half month cycling tour covering 1,400 miles from Calgary to Vancouver Island through the Canadian Rockies, and with only five flat tires between them, is the record of two young English girls, who wanted to see Canada and meet Canadian people.

The youthful adventurers are Miss Joan Dilnot, London, Eng., and Miss Elizabeth Stephenson, Exington, Kent, Eng.

Joan, born in France, has lived most of her life in England. She and Elizabeth have been chums since school days, and have been making plans for their Canadian tour together for a number of years.

Both served with the armed forces during the war; Joan in the Wrens and Elizabeth with the Waaf. On demobilization they decided to begin their "often-thought-of Canadian trip."

Elizabeth arrived in Toronto nearly two years ago, and Joan followed several months later.

WORK AND SAVE

They took positions in Toronto, and after saving their money, traveled to Calgary.

On light, sturdy English bicycles with three-speed gears, and with 70-pound packs the girls began their journey to the West Coast on July 19.

"They arrived in Victoria, Tuesday morning, and in an interview, declared themselves 'thrilled with Western Canada'."

Both are full of praise for Canadian hospitality and for the "marvelous hostels."

"We've had about 250 miles of rides given us by kindly people, and have stayed with a magistrate and his family, an engineer's family, lumberjack, storekeeper and foundry worker's families. And a cafe owner in Bridesville, B.C., let us use the cafe, after closing hours, to sleep in," they recount.

"Our whole trip, starting at Calgary, has cost us only $100 apiece, so far," they state. "That includes clothing too. We added raincoats to our small wardrobes."

They traveled in grey flannel shorts, T-shirts and blouses, and in their packs had slacks, skirt and blouse, and jacket.

"At one place in the Rockies, we wore everything we owned all at once, it was so cold," they laugh.

Besides clothing, each had a

English cyclists Joan Dilnot and Elizabeth Stephenson, left to right, are spending several days at Y.W.C.A. after their 1,400-mile bicycle tour. Joan, interested in writing, and Elizabeth, a free-lance press photographer, have kept a day-to-day record of their experiences, and on return to England hope to collaborate on a book.

billy can for cooking, a plate, cup, fork, knife and spoons.

The road through the Rockies held no fears for the twosome.

"There was hardly any pushing to do except around Banff," they state.

HOSTEL FRIENDSHIPS

The cyclists stayed at the mountain resort five days, and tell you that hostels there were wonderful. It's a shame they aren't used more often.

It was a hostel in the Rockies that the girls met three other cyclists; two girls traveling to the coast, and a young man, "Ollie," cycling from Toronto.

A friendship was formed, and the quintette, all traveling different routes, arranged to meet in Vancouver.

"And we did," the girls tell you, "and had a grand time exchanging stories of our adventures."

On their all-Canadian route, the girls traveled the Hope-Princeton Highway.

"It wasn't quite finished but it is certainly something for the province to be proud of," they agree.

Travel, through the Fraser Canyon held a bit of a surprise.

CAUGHT IN RAIN

They were told "there had been no rainfall for six weeks and so decided to "sleep out" in their sleeping bags.

"And that very night the British Columbia rains came," they exclaimed, "and we were soaked to the skin. We didn't mind too much, though, because the farmers really needed rain for the crops."

In Oliver, the travelers remained for a week to work in a plant nursery.

"It was most interesting. We learned about grafting different fruit trees — peaches and apricots.

From there, they continued to Vancouver, and then crossed to the island by way of Nanaimo. They visited friends at Comox for several days, and did a little fishing.

"But we didn't catch anything," they state regretfully.

RECORD DAY

The girls also stopped at Cape Lazo, near Comox, and from there made the record trip of their whole journey.

"We traveled the 74 miles from Cape Lazo to the hotel at Departure Bay in a little more than seven hours," they say proudly.

"Of course, time means nothing to us. We've been too busy sightseeing and meeting people," they state.

The English visitors will stay in Victoria until Friday or Saturday, then cross to Vancouver for three weeks.

They plan to board the Aorangi for New Zealand where they'll spend two-and-a-half months, and a week in Australia, en route to England.

On arrival in Victoria, the first thing Elizabeth did, was purchase new shoes.

"I wore out one-and-a-half pairs of shoes, and Elizabeth wore out two pairs," Joan laughs, "but we still think our bicycles were the best investment we ever made."

Outstanding Woman Doctor Here

Dr. Ethelwyn Trapp, right, well known throughout British Columbia as an outstanding radiation therapist, is in Victoria this week to attend the 1949 annual meeting of the B.C. Medical Association. Her busy office is in Vancouver. She is a past president of the association, a director of the National Cancer Institute of Canada and an honorary member of the staff of the B.C. Cancer Institute, of which she was director during the war years. Dr. Trapp graduated from McGill University. Pictured with her is a sister, Mrs. Raymond Collishaw, West Vancouver, also a visitor in the city this week. She is the wife of Air Vice-Marshal Collishaw. The sisters are members of a pioneer New Westminster family.

Nuptials Link Well-Known Victoria-Kamloops Families

Of wide interest in this city as well as in the interior of the province was the marriage last Saturday in Kamloops United Church of Miss Muriel Josephine Carson, youngest daughter of Robert Carson, former Speaker of the House and M.L.A. for Kamloops and Mrs. Carson to William Hugh Macdonald of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Macdonald, Foul Bay Road.

Rev. F. R. G. Dredge of this city, assisted by Rev. R. R. Morrison of Kamloops, officiated at the early evening ceremony, attended by many friends from this city and the mainland.

The couple, now motoring in the interior, are both graduates of University of British Columbia. The bride, a descendant of pioneer B.C. families, is affiliated with Alpha Phi Sorority and her groom with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. They will make their home in Vancouver.

A perfect white orchid blossom centred the bouquet of scarlet rosebuds carried by the bride as she was given in marriage by her father.

Her classic bridal gown in traditional white satin, was yoked in net; a wide border of satin created the portrait neckline; sleeves were long and sheathed and the full skirt, drawn into a soft bustle at the back, was slightly in train.

A pearl studded headdress crowned the full-length veil.

ATTENDANTS THREE

Miss Mary Jane Patterson of Edmonton, was bridesmaid, in an off-shoulder gown of gold bengaline. She carried pale green chrysanthemums to match those in her headdress.

Similar bouffant-skirted gowns in apple green moire taffeta were worn by bridesmaid, Miss Doreen Docker of Kamloops, and junior attendant, Miss Heather Anderson, niece of the bride.

Pale gold and bronze chrysanthemums fashioned their bouquets and were repeated in their headdresses.

Ken Islaub of Vancouver, was best man. Ushers were Douglas Carson, brother of the bride, and Russell McBride, both of Vancouver. Eric Boothroyd played wedding music.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, A. tiny crystal and silver vase, which had decorated her parents' wedding cake, was filled with white rosebuds and placed on top of the bride's three-tier cake.

Mrs. R. H. Handford presided in the dining-room, assisted by Mrs. A. F. Matthews, Miss Dorothy Anderson, Mrs. Pinchin, Miss Enid Sinclair, Miss Helen Hatfield of Vancouver, and Mrs. Jack Davis and Miss Sadie Service.

The wedding toast was proposed by Thomas Anderson.

Later when the couple left on their wedding trip, Mrs. Mac-

Short Gown Hints New Flapper Era

NEW YORK (AP)—The flapper of the terrible 20's is due for a comeback in the fabulous 50's.

Newest indication is the return of the short evening dresses, a favorite of the jazz age, now gaining general acceptance in the bebop era. Along with the shingle bob, the shorter skirt and the "bunny hug" coat, it is a sign of the times.

Although the short evening dress has appeared in fashion collections for the last four or five years, it has established itself as a major fashion in all price ranges and age groups just this season. Fashion authorities agree that we'll be seeing it this winter on Main Street as well as Park Avenue.

Lake Hill Institute Banquet Marks 40 Years Of Service

An enviable record of work and fellowship covering four decades of community life was marked yesterday evening in Lake Hill Community Hall, where members of the Lake Hill Women's Institute celebrated the organization's 40th anniversary with a banquet and social evening.

The occasion also marked the beginning of institute work in British Columbia, as the Lake Hill group, formed in September, 1909, in a fruit-packing shed (Lake Hill was a district of fruit farms in those days) is the oldest active institute in the province.

Mrs. A. S. Moffat and Mrs. W. S. Webster, president and vice-president, acted as hostesses for the evening.

Seated at the head table with Mrs. Moffat were Mr. Arthur Ash, M.L.A.-elect for Saanich, and Mrs. Ash; Reeve E. C. Warren of Saanich and Mrs. Warren; Dr. J. B. Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and Mrs. Munro; Mrs. Stella Gummow, provincial superintendent of women's institutes; Mrs. Harry G. Bowman, wife of the recently-named Minister of Agriculture, and A. S. Moffat.

Specially-invited guests included the following presidents of institutes in the South Vancouver Island district: Mrs. G. D. Moody, Brentwood; Mrs. Gladys Delling, Cedar; Mrs. B. A. McKelvie, Cobble Hill; Mrs. Emery, Colwood; Mrs. T. Broatch, Cowichan; Mrs. R. Rogers, Craigflower; Mrs. Jane McDuff, Esquimalt; Mrs. C. Campbell, Gabriola Island; Mrs. Blanch Reid, Koksilah; Miss L. M. A. Savory, Langford.

Mrs. H. Langrish, Luxton and Happy Valley; Mrs. A. J. Ingram, Royal Oak; Mrs. E. Williams, Saltair; Mrs. E. Daines, Shawnigan Lake; Mrs. L. Perron, Shirley; Mrs. H. A. Cross, Somenos; Mrs. W. A. Condon, Sooke; Mrs. North Sooke; Mrs. W. McNally, South Saanich; Mrs. A. Davis, South Salt Spring; Mrs. E. Carey, Strawberry Vale; Mrs. W. Peden, Victoria, and Mrs. E. D. Crisp, Pender Island.

Also present was Mr. Fraser Tolmie, whose mother, the late Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, was first president of Lake Hill Institute, a position she held for several years.

Mrs. M. E. Service, only charter member now alive, who is at present living in Oregon, was unable to be present.

During the banquet a toast was proposed to the British Columbia institutes by Dr. Munro, who spoke briefly of Laura Rose Stephens, instructor at the Ontario Ladies' College, who organized Lake Hill and other early institutes in the province. This was responded to by Mrs. Gummow. Mr. Ash proposed a toast to Lake Hill Institute, responded to by Mrs. Webster. Reeve Warren brought greetings from Saanich municipality.

PRESENTATIONS MADE

Following the banquet Mrs. Moffat presented a life membership to Mrs. Webster and an institute pin bearing the institute's emblem of a dogwood, to Mrs. Miriam Smith Simpson, one of the earliest members present. Both Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Simpson also received corsage bouquets.

Ceremony of cutting the anniversary cake, made by Mrs. Webster and decorated in institute colors, green, gold and white, by Mrs. Mary Brown, daughter of Mrs. Tom Simmonds, an old-time member, was performed by Mrs. Moffat, Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Simpson.

Institute colors were used in table decorations, with crystal and old Georgian silver candle holders, green, gold and white lighted candles and autumn flowers and leaves in the same tones.

A musical program arranged by Mrs. R. Noble included songs by Miss Gail Bevedridge, Messrs. Jack Ross and D. B. Noble, accompanied by Miss Vowles.

Flower Girls Frocked In Pink Attend Bride Dorothy Stout

Two tiny flower girls, frocked in pale pink satin ruffled with net, escorted Wednesday evening's bride, Miss Dorothy Laurine Stout into Fairfield United Church for her marriage to William A. Pearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Pearce, 621 Simcoe Street.

Tall baskets filled with white gladioli and pink chrysanthemums, and lighted tapers in stately holders created the setting for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stout, 1241 McKenzie Street, in her lace-edged gown of rich ivory satin.

Fashioned on long, flowing lines, the wedding dress had lily point sleeves, off-shoulder neckline and full skirt, flounced at the hem over rows of lacy frills; the slight train was edged in lace.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride completed her ensemble with a lace-edged fingertip veil crowned with beaded tiam, and carried Rapture roses and swansonia. Her groom's gift was a rhinestone necklace.

Ice-blue satin in off-shoulder mode and with full skirt was worn by matron of honor, Mrs. T. Ferris. She had matching Mary Stuart headdress, and carried Colonial bouquet of pink carnations and violas.

Miss Patricia Wastell, whose gown was similar in style and color, wore a blue net headdress and carried pink carnations and violas in her Colonial bouquet.

Little Linda Lambie and Coral Mortimer, nieces of the groom, were flower girls. They carried Colonial posies of pink carnations and violas and wore bandeaux of similar flowers in their hair.

Tom Ferris supported the groom as best man. Guests were ushered to their seats by MacKenzie Norris, Edward Watson and Robert Hampton.

Mrs. Arthur Jackman sang "The Day of Golden Promise" for the newlyweds as Charles Palmer presided at the organ.

Rev. William Allan, officiating minister, proposed the toast to the bride's future happiness at a reception in the church hall. White tapers in silver holders decorated the lace-cloth covered table, where a three-tier cake formed the centerpiece.

Vocal solos were given by Mrs. N. Duckworth, Mrs. J. Hilton, and A. Jackman; piano solos by Mrs. R. Cross.

The newlyweds, who will make their home in the city, left by motor for San Francisco on honeymoon. Mrs. Pearce wore a grey gabardine topcoat and matching accessories with her turquoise suit. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias.

Canadian To Aid West Africa Lepers

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—The life of a missionary in French West Africa has been chosen by Joan Jackson of Reserve, Sask.

A nursing graduate of McKellar Hospital here in 1938, Miss Jackson took post-graduate work at Toronto University School of Nursing. She returned to McKellar Hospital and served as clinical supervisor until 1948.

In that year she entered a Baptist seminary in Toronto to qualify as a missionary. Miss Jackson will study French for six months in Paris and then will go to Minna, Nigeria, to learn the Hausa language, widely spoken in French West Africa. She will serve at her station for four years before receiving a furlough.

Besides preaching the gospel, Miss Jackson expects to use her nursing training in work among lepers and may be stationed in a hospital now under consideration for the area.

Gold-leaf trimmings on wood, fabrics and metal are being replaced by palladium leaf which will shortly be seen in commercial quantities.

1,000 M.P.H. Speed Claimed For Plane

NEW YORK (AP)—Air Secretary Stuart Symington disclosed Wednesday that "man has now flown and lived at speeds hundreds of miles an hour faster than the speed of sound"—which is 760 miles an hour at sea level.

The U.S. Air Force has admitted possession of a supersonic plane, the X-1, but it has been consistently silent about its exact top speed.

Whether Symington meant this plane or some other he did not specify. But in an address to the National Security Industrial Association he said:

"This same plane, if it had the range, would arrive in San Francisco before it left New York. That will give worry to the timetable experts."

The X-1 is understood to have reached a speed of about 1,000 miles an hour for matters of seconds. Presumably Symington meant that if a plane had the power to sustain such speed for long distances, it could fly coast-to-coast in less than the three-hour time difference.

Six New Members Share In Day's Debate In Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—New Liberal members are beginning to monopolize the Commons Throne-Speech debate—traditional arena for airing complaints, requests and praise of all kinds at the government.

Six of the eight members who took part in the debate during Wednesday's abbreviated sitting were Liberals delivering their maiden addresses.

The ratio isn't surprising in view of the fact that more than 90 new Liberals were sent to fill the 262 seats in the House at the June 27 election.

However, the preponderance of speeches by members friendly to government policies has noticeably taken the edge off the normally lively debate.

NUMEROUS REQUESTS

There are obviously fewer gripes and more praise. There is, however, no reduction in the number of requests directed to the government.

Six requests—or suggestions—of varied descriptions reached government ears Wednesday and four of them came from Liberal members.

The other two were from the opposition members who took part in the debate, Hazen Argue (C.C.F.-Assiniboia, Sask.) and Ray Thomas (S.C.-Wetaskiwin, Alta.).

Mr. Argue, a farmer from Kayville, Sask., who at 28 is one of the younger members of the Commons, asked Transport Minister Chevrier to delay the order of the Board of Transport Commissioners putting into effect an 8 per cent increase in freight rates for the railways.

Mr. Argue said the financial report of the Canadian Pacific Railway—yardstick line in deciding on increases—shows there is no need for increased rates at this time.

The increase would result in higher prices for many products—oil and coal for example—which are already up as a result of Canada's 10 per cent devaluation of the dollar.

In addition, it would raise the prices of Canadian farm products—cheese, bacon and eggs—thus making it even more difficult for the United Kingdom to buy these things.

Freight rates, he said, should be equalized on a national scale before any consideration is given to increasing them.

Mr. Thomas, a merchant from Mirror, Alta., had two requests. He wanted the government to consider increases for superannuated civil servants as a result of the higher cost of living.

Mr. Thomas also asked that veterans' legislation be modified to allow ex-servicemen to gain government loans for paying down payments on businesses.

The request most general in scope came from Gladstone M. Ferrie (L.-Mackenzie), an Invermay, Sask., livestock dealer.

He would like to see the government appoint a minister of federal roads.

The minister would head a commission in charge of selecting sites for a comprehensive network of highways across Canada which would be of extreme strategic importance, in the event of attack from the north.

NOT GOOD ENOUGH

At present, said Mr. Ferrie, many parts of the country—particularly the prairie provinces—had roads which would not permit free movement of troops in case of emergency.

John Decore (L.-Vegreville, Alta.), asked the transport minister to see if he could get the Canadian National Railways to fill a 39-mile gap in the railway line from Nelsburg, Alta., to Frenchman's Butte, Sask.

This line, he said, runs through a rich oil district and would be of help to farmers as well as to a salt mine situated along the route.

No specific request came from A. F. Macdonald (L.-Edmonton East), who said the people of his constituency support the policies of the government and will use the first chance to help elect a Liberal government in Alberta.

Lake Cowichan Sets Blood Donor Record

LAKE COWICHAN—Dr. J. Nelson, medical officer Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service, stated after a blood-donor clinic held Wednesday at Lake Cowichan that a record was established for a district this size.

He stated that response from people showed not only interest in development of the district but in each other's welfare. He expressed the hope that the fine example of unselfishness of communities of Honeymoon Bay, Mesachie, Lake Cowichan village and surrounding logging camps would be followed by other communities. Three hundred and ninety-nine donors passed through the clinic.

J. P. Allan, chairman Lake Cowichan Blood donors panel, gave credit to untiring efforts of local organizations who helped campaign, canvass and carry out the clinic and to the public for their response.

There will be a clinic in Youbou tonight. Red Cross officials said the supply of blood was short. Blood donated Wednesday at Lake Cowichan was rushed by plane to Vancouver. Most citizens were donating for the first time but one donor said it was his 19th time. Members of the I.O.D.E. served refreshments to donors.

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—White ants which exist by eating the heart out of Australian timber have been at this destructive work at least 50,000,000 years. A piece of petrified tree, found in New South Wales, showed burrowings which were definitely those of prehistoric white ants.

LIVING IS CHEAPER

NEW DELHI (CP)—A spokesman for the Ministry of Labor said recently that present living costs in India are not higher than those in the United States.

Britain and Canada. He explained that it was erroneous to compare cost of living in the different countries on the basis of cost of living index numbers, as there were many variations.

Overseas League Aids Businessmen

A secretarial bureau and conference room will be made available in London by the Overseas League, who feel that businessmen from overseas are seriously handicapped in London today.

Not only is there an accommodation problem, but difficulty in obtaining secretarial assistance and a place in which to meet and discuss with business colleagues, according to the league.

"As well as offering the use of the secretarial bureau, the Overseas League can make available a conference room at Overseas House and members can entertain their business friends in the dining rooms and bars," according to Victoria officials of the league.

Full particulars may be obtained from Brig. W. G. Colquhoun, chairman, at E 4884 or Miss F. H. Burns, honorary secretary, at E 2401.

YOU SAVE MONEY every mile you drive with the Dodge simple-design L-Head engine. There are fewer moving parts to wear. Oil filter, floating oil intake, and air cleaners keep carbon and dirt from moving parts to reduce wear. Such "extra" features as four rings per piston, full length water jackets, lightweight alloy pistons and alloy exhaust valve seat inserts, result in savings on gas, oil, and repairs.

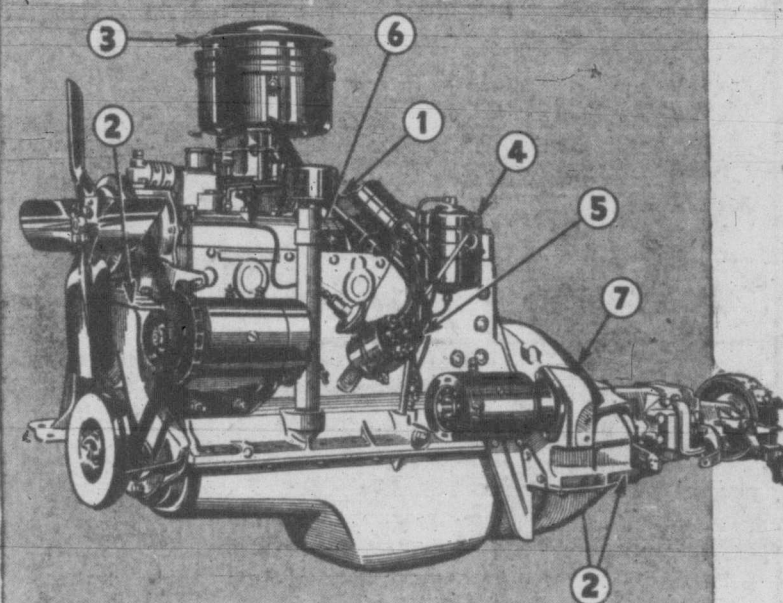

Other leading features of the economical Dodge engine are explained on the right. But in many other ways Dodge gives you more for your money.

You could pay much more, and still not get all of Dodge roominess, beauty and ruggedness. Test for yourself the generous head, leg, and elbow room. Compare the "outlook" through the high, wide windshield. Note how easy it is to get in and out. Try out the new Dodge on the road and discover for yourself its flashing performance, driving ease, safety, and riding smoothness.

No matter which way you look at it, your dollars will go further with Dodge... and so will you.

CHECK THESE "EXTRA" FEATURES WHICH ARE STANDARD EQUIPMENT ON THE NEW DODGE.

Automatic electric choke; Automatic ignition key starting; Aluminum alloy pistons; Four rings per piston; Low pressure tires; Chain camshaft drive; Oil bath air cleaner; Oil filter; Floating oil intake; Hotchkiss drive; Safety-Rim wheels; Floating Power engine mounting; Chair-height seats; Full-width defroster vents.

1 L-HEAD OPERATION is quieter, as all moving parts are inside the block. Fewer parts to wear or work loose assure longer life. Simple construction allows easy maintenance.

2 FLOATING POWER is the name given to the scientific Dodge method of mounting the engine on the chassis so that engine vibration is not transmitted to the body. Results in smooth, quiet operation and long car life.

3 OIL BATH AIR CLEANER filters the air before it enters the carburetor. By keeping dust out of the engine, it cuts down repairs and lengthens engine life.

4 OIL FILTER of micron type, filters even the smallest particles of carbon or dirt out of the oil and so reduces wear on bearings and cylinder walls for long, trouble-free engine life.

5 WEATHERPROOF IGNITION SYSTEM gives maximum protection against water and dirt for dependable all-weather operation. Distributor has a new splash-proof cap. Centre distributor brush has a 10,000 ohm carbon suppressor which allows a wider spark gap setting for better idling and low-speed performance.

6 AUTOMATIC CHOKE. The choke enriches the mixture by automatically reducing the proportion of air drawn through the carburetor during warm-up, to provide easy starting under all weather conditions. Saves fuel by preventing too rich an operating mixture.

7 FLUID DRIVE on Custom Dodge models lets you drive, relaxed, in high gear most of the time. It is particularly effective on wet pavement, ice or mud, allowing smooth transfer of power without stalling. The Custom Dodge is still the lowest-priced car in Canada with Fluid Drive as standard equipment.

Alex. Semple Contender In Search For Oldest Student

Another contender for the honor of cutting a ribbon which will mark the official opening of the F. T. Fairley Technical Unit—Victoria High School—at a ceremony next month is Alexander Semple, 87-year-old Victoria pioneer who lives at 405, Edward Street.

Officials of the Greater Victoria School Board are seeking the oldest living person who attended a school in this area to open the new technical school and Mr. Semple believes he might be "their man."

Two others who have sent their names to the board are Herbert Kent, 87, 228 Douglas Street, and James Kennedy, 83, 908 Russell Street.

Mr. Semple says he "noses out" Mr. Kent on age, claiming he was born one month before his old school chum.

ONLY TWO LEFT

"Yes, I went to school with Herbert Kent," the Victoria West old-timer recalled. "Fact is he and I are the only members of a class of five who held a reunion back in 1933."

AT LOG CABIN SCHOOL

The five, who attended an old log cabin school which was situated on the north side of Yates Street near the present site of the Yates Street fire hall, included the late Dr. S. F. Tolmie, former B.C. premier, and the late John Newbury and the late George Chadwick.

The reunion was held at the home of the former premier and is a highlight in the life of Mr. Semple.

"We had a great time reminiscing," he chuckled.

A carriage-maker by trade, Mr. Semple claims to have been the builder of the first motored sightseeing vehicle for Victoria. He can't remember what year it went into operation.

ALEX SEMPLE
...built first bus

"But she was a good one," he said.

SLEIGHS FOR GOLD RUSH

The old-timer recalled also building 800 hand sleighs for the Klondike gold rush.

He was born at Craigflower and went to school there at the age of seven. The school he attended is a museum now at the north end of the Craigflower Bridge. He stayed with his grandparents during the week attending the school, and visited his parents near his present Victoria West home on week-ends, traveling by horse and cart over rough, winding trails through the woods.

Mr. Semple is an accomplished oil painter and the walls of his home display dozens of framed pictures bearing his signature.

"Never had a lesson, either," he boasted.

He was quite an actor in his day, too, when he and his wife played in old melodramas at Semple's Victoria West Hall which burned to the ground several years ago.

Servicemen's Folks Can Call Overseas

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—A little-known installation on a hill on the outskirts of San Antonio bridges the gap of thousands of miles between members of families stationed at U.S. military outposts throughout the world.

The installation is short-wave transmitter KSPAC, located at Lackland Air Force Base. A powerful station, it regularly contacts such remote spots as Tokyo and tiny Johnson Island in the Pacific.

A new wrinkle recently has been added to the station's facilities. Now, by means of the newly-installed telephone connection, a San Antonio housewife can talk directly to her service husband in England, Panama or elsewhere.

Coming Friday

Edward Henry Maquire, Canadian commercial secretary in Santiago, Chile, will visit Victoria Friday to confer with provincial government officials and Vancouver Island manufacturers and exporters concerning trade with the South American republic.

Arrangements to meet Mr. Maquire may be made through the trade and industry department's trade commissioner office at the Parliament Buildings.

'Both Were Contented Carnation Babies'

says MRS. P. K. LEITCH, graduate dietitian of Alexander, Mac

MANY, many mothers with dietetic training and experience have used Carnation formulas for their babies. But you don't have to be a dietitian to use a Carnation formula.

Carnation is widely accepted as the preferred milk for infant feeding. Homogenization and heat-refinement make Carnation unusually digestible so that it agrees with babies; evaporation makes it double-rich so that it can be exactly diluted to suit each baby; and sterilization brings it to your home absolutely safe and pure. Ask your doctor about a Carnation formula for your baby.

Kelburne and Sidney Leitch—both fine husky Carnation babies... Says Mrs. Leitch—"We had never a day of worry over the babies' Carnation feedings. And the Carnation formula was so easy to prepare. No wonder there are so many Carnation babies in the world."

Dreams Of Bishop Result In New Model Quebec Town

HAUTE-RIVE, Que. (BUP)—A new model town, built to accommodate approximately 3,000 persons within the next two or three years, is taking shape on the heights of the north shore of the St. Lawrence River here.

The new municipality, authorized by the Quebec provincial government six months ago, was called Haute-Rive because of its geographical location. It was being built at the foot of the Laurentian mountains, overlooking the majestic St. Lawrence.

Haute-Rive was born of the desire of a Roman Catholic bishop to have a site for his cathedral and bishopric, and an educational and medical centre for his people. A pioneer company in the area contributed most of the land, and the provincial government assisted and heard the arguments of a fighting member of the legislature.

Most Rev. N. A. Labrie, bishop for the Gulf of St. Lawrence, had one of the largest ecclesiastical territories in the province. But he had no church or bishopric of his own. He and a few priest-missionaries had for the past several decades looked into the area in the near future, he believed.

But there was nothing but rudimentary educational, medical and social facilities to meet the needs of the growing population in the area.

So last fall, Bishop Labrie and Pierre Ouellet, National Union member of the legislature for the area, launched a campaign for a new town to be built in Saguenay county, on the North Shore. Colonization of "New Quebec" could be launched from the new town, they said.

The Quebec North Shore Co. gave the founders the land on which Haute-Rive today was being built. Special legislation was passed last winter authorizing Sporting Mayor Looking For Cushions...

... Anticipation

His first time on skates in 35 years, Mayor Percy George on Wednesday tried the ice at the new Memorial Arena. "Looks pretty nice," said the good-natured chief magistrate as he prepared himself for the takeoff.

... Expectation

"Wait a minute, now..." he wobbled as ankles strained and muscles complained. He was beginning to realize it wasn't quite the same as those old days at Port Hope, Ont., when he learned to skim over the ice as a young farmhand just out from England.

... Realization

"Ouch!" The inevitable happened. Too far from "shore" to find something to grab when his equilibrium departed the mayor finds the ice not only slick but hard. "No damage done," he laughed, scrambling to his feet. Minutes later he was trying it again with better success. A little more caution at the start was his advice to those who haven't been skating for some time. It is expected there will be a lot in the same boat on Friday at the rink when the first public skating sessions are held at 3 in the afternoon and at 8 in the evening.

The DOCTOR

Says:

DIET, EXERCISE AND SLEEP ARE THE THREE BIG HEALTH FACTORS

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

It is said that the Chinese pay their doctors for keeping them well and stop paying when the patients fall ill. There is perhaps some question as to whether this saying is strictly true, but keeping in good health is certainly something everyone wants.

There are certain positive steps which everyone can take in order to increase the chances of staying in good health. The diet is one of these. Everyone should include enough of the basic foods to supply energy needs, but not so much as to produce fatness which carries serious health risks.

The three basic foods are the starches or carbohydrates, such as sugar, potato, and bread; proteins, which include meat, eggs, fish, fowl, and milk; and the fats, such as oleomargarine, butter, and fat meat. A balanced diet of these foods is needed.

MINERALS PLAY A BIG PART

In addition to these basic foods, minerals are necessary, particularly for the growing child. Calcium, which is an important part of the bone and teeth, is obtained largely from dairy products. Most other minerals, like iron, which the blood must have, are present in vegetables.

Exercise is important. Although a person who gets little or no physical exercise seems to get by with it for a while, in the long run the lack of exercise is likely to show up by decreased vigor and ambition.

Sleep is also an item. Some people need more sleep than others, however. If a person feels rested and energetic after the night's sleep, that is a good sign that enough is being obtained.

Question: Is there any way to prevent beauty marks from appearing on the body? Is there any cure for these?

Answer: I am somewhat uncertain as to what is meant by "beauty marks." There are probably several kinds of skin blemishes to which this name is applied. Without knowing the nature of the skin, it is impossible to discuss treatment.

Strangled By String

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A five-year-old boy was strangled to death Wednesday by the neck string attached to his hat, police reported. He was Ray Willis, son of Mrs. Velma Willis, a widow living on a ranch near here. The boy apparently was coming down from a tree at his home when his straw cowboy-type hat became caught in a fork. The neck string attached to the hat pulled tight, strangling the child.

Spanking Saves Life

LA SALLE, Col. (UP)—When the two-year-old son of Walter Channell fell into a pool of water, crude but effective artificial respiration saved the lad's life.

The father, a caretaker at a fish hatchery, pulled the child out of the water, held him up by his ankles and whacked him on the back until the youngster started breathing again.

City firemen put out a fire at Jubb's fish and chip shop at 1127 Haultain Street in the noon hour today.

Cougars In Two-Hour Drill; Help Promised

Following a light skating workout Tuesday night, the Victoria Cougars opened their training sessions Wednesday at the Memorial Ice Arena in preparation for the opening of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, which is only nine days away.

A two-hour workout under the direction of coach Eddie Wares opened the sessions. In addition to the signed players, a total of 10 local hopefuls turned out in an effort to secure berths on the club.

Arrival of goalie Jerry Fodey Wednesday morning made the practice complete, and although he suffered a hand injury in the opening minutes, it was discovered it was not serious and he continued to take his position on the ice.

Local players on hand were Phil Andrejcek, Don Gillespie, Allan Smith, Ken Gunter, Bob Fowler, Jack Quinn, Harold Wells, Gil Campbell, L. LaRochelle and Connie McBeth.

Owner Lester Patrick announced today that defenceman Flori Goegan, acquired from the Boston Bruins of the N.H.L., was scheduled to arrive from Vancouver this afternoon and would take part in Friday morning's session.

High-scoring Tom Hockey, another defenceman, is motoring out here from his home in Carman, Man., and this will bolster the Cougars' rearward strength to five. Three blueliners already talking in the sessions are coach Wares, Eddie Marneau and Bud James.

Georges Bougie, right winger scheduled to play for the Cougars, has declined to come west, and general manager Frank Selke of the Montreal Canadiens is making a bid to send an immediate replacement.

Patrick is still seeking two additional centres, two right wingers and another left winger. Forward in the camp to date include Bernie Strongman, Roy McKay, Larry Thibault, Allan Senior and Joe Evans.

It is also expected that Fred Hildebrand, who is still working out with Boston, will be here in time for the opener.

Juvenile Football To Open Saturday

Play in the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association will open over the week-end with three tilts billed Saturday and another trio Sunday.

A total of 13 teams are entered in the loop, which is comprised of five divisions. Squads entered include:

First division: Vets of France, Heaney's, Whitney's, Beacon Taxi.

Second division: Bluebirds, Tillicums, James Bay.

Third division: Careys, St. Louis College, Y.M.C.A.

Fourth division: K. of P., St. Saviours.

Fifth division—James Bay. Week-end schedule follows: Saturday—Careys vs. Y.M.C.A. at Heywood Avenue at 1 P.M.; St. Saviours at lower Beacon Hill at 1 P.M.; James Bay vs. K. of P. at Heywood Avenue at 2 P.M.

Sunday—Vets of France vs. Beacon Taxi at lower Beacon Hill at 1 P.M.; Heaney's at Heywood Avenue at 2 P.M.; Tillicums vs. James Bay at Victoria West Park at 2 P.M.

Worcester, Mass.—Timothy (Buddy) Hayes, 130, Boston, outpointed Tomas Beato, 131, Havana, Cuba (10).

Nippy Jones Lost To Cardinals For Season

PITTSBURGH (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals' National League pennant hopes received a jolt Wednesday when it was learned that Nippy Jones, their hard-hitting first baseman, will be lost to them for the balance of the season.

Jones' ailing back has been getting worse instead of better. He reported to the park Wednesday.

Walters Released As Cincinnati Manager

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bucky Walters was released today as manager of the Cincinnati Reds of the National Baseball League. Warren Giles, general manager, said no successor has been chosen to succeed him.

Walters, for many years a star pitcher for the Cincinnati club, became manager Aug. 6, 1948.

He replaced Johnny Neun while the club was in Brooklyn and in a bad slump.

Giles said Walters will be retained in the Cincinnati organization but did not disclose what kind of work he will do.

Four Senior Soccer Matches Billed Here Over Week-end

Another four games are billed in the Victoria and District Senior Soccer League this week-end, but only the two Sunday matches will take the form of a double bill—inaugurated for the first time in city soccer circles this year.

The Ex-R.A.F. eleven, who have changed their name to Alcos, will tackle Oak Bay on Saturday at Windsor Park, commencing at 2.30, and Dunsmuir Native Sons will journey to Colville Road to meet the Navy at the same time.

Sunday's games will be played at Athletic Park, with the first slated to get under way at 1.30 and the second about 3.15. Canadian Legion will battle Esquimalt in the opener, with Wests and Heaneys matching shots in the finale.

At a meeting of the association last night, it was decided that teams may journey to Duncan when the up-landers are billed as the home team. It will not be compulsory, however, as the Duncan squad agreed to play all games with the exception of cup-ties in Victoria when they entered the loop. Heaneys, Wests and the Navy have agreed to play in Duncan.

S.P.C.A. Opposes Wrestling Bear Idea

VANCOUVER (CP)—A proposed tussle here between a medium-sized wrestler and a 600-pound bear hit a possible snag Wednesday.

The S.P.C.A. stepped into the picture and began a "complete" investigation into the match, scheduled for Oct. 5.

Said David Ricardo, S.P.C.A. secretary-treasurer: "On the face of it, it doesn't seem like a good idea."

Likely he isn't worried about bruins.

Cougars' Beef Trust

This is one pair of Cougar defencemen opposing forwards will be clashing with when the Pacific Coast Hockey League season gets under way at New Westminster Oct. 8, with the Royals hosting the Eddie Wares coached squad. Both Bud James, left, and Eddie Marneau are solidly built and pack enough weight to make things interesting around the blue line. Opening game in the city ends Portland here on Monday, Oct. 10.

Smythe Taking No Chances With Leafs In Pre-Season Workouts

By CANADIAN PRESS

Coach Happy Day of Toronto Maple Leafs is taking no chances on too many injuries to his team in pre-season practice workouts. With the start of the National Hockey League season still two weeks away, Day put his players through their paces at a fast clip yesterday at St. Catharines and then cut short the practice.

Conn Smythe, Leafs' manager, remarked as the players headed for the dressing rooms: "That's the team we'll have to go through a 70-game schedule with and I don't want to see half of them in hospital before the all-star game."

But before the scrimmage was packed up, the Leafs showed smooth passing and hard checking. Howie Meeker and Bill Ezinicki exchanged wing posts, a swap that put them back in their old spots. Fleming Mackell worked out at right wing, with Bob Dawes at centre and Vic Lynn on left wing. Ezinicki, patrolling the right side of the rink for Cal Gardner and Harry Watson, stuck to his opposing wingmate, handled much of the heavy work and found time to slap in a goal.

Dawes, 25-year-old centre, signed his contract last night. He was the last of the Leafs to sign, having waited until a minor disagreement over a contract clause was ironed out.

TOO MANY STEAKS
Dick Irvin, Montreal Cana-

dien's coach, thinks his charges are not yet in condition for the opening of the season. He told the team yesterday that its total weight now is 15 pounds more than it was at the start of training—due partly to some members going too heavily on the steaks. After Irvin's Dutch uncle talk, the Canadiens staged a practice game with enough heavy checking and heavy bumping to start slimming down the overweights.

Chicago Black Hawks, who have been doing their pre-season training at North Bay, Ont., go into action at Galt, Ont., tonight. They will take on Kansas City Mohawks, their newly-renamed American Hockey League farm team, in an exhibition game.

Third-Period Goal By Bill Carse Gives Canucks Victory

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Playing coach Bill Carse won his own hockey game here last night, scoring the only goal in the last period to give Vancouver Canucks their first exhibition win in three tries against the fast-paced Seattle Ironmen.

Slapping in Scotty McPherson's rebound late in the final canto, Carse set Coley Hall's Canucks up for a 3 to 2 victory before a small house in Memorial Arena here.

During the game owner Hall conceded he would be lucky to pull out a win with only two defencemen fit to play. Vic Lofvendahl and Larry Reardon bore the brunt of the defence work, spelled off by forward Bobby Ballance.

Chuck Millman, injured in Monday's game here against Oakland, has returned to Vancouver. Les Vickery has a swollen foot after the game at Vernon against Seattle Tuesday.

SHUFFLES LINES

In winning his second game in four starts, Carse came up with reshuffled lines. He centred Wimpy Jones and Mutcherson while Courteau played between Bill Shill and Andy Chakowski. On the third line Scotty McPherson piloted Ivan Wilson and Hermie Gruhn.

Temperatures reached near breaking point for the first time in the exhibition series. Jones and Taillifer tangled late in the third but referee Bill Knott got in the way before punches were thrown. Both would-be batterers drew two minutes for roughness.

Musial, Slaughter Unanimous Selections On U.P. All-Star National League Team

NEW YORK (UP)—Stan (The Man) Musial and Enos (Country) Slaughter, those intrepid outfielders who have kept the St. Louis Cardinals in the pennant race all the way, were the big men today on the United Press National League all-star team selected by veteran baseball writers in the major league cities.

They were the only unanimous choices on the team, although pitcher Howie Pollet of the Cardinals missed by only one vote and first basemen Gil Hodges of the Brooklyn Dodgers got all but two.

Herewith the team, a pretty impressive array even though the boys won't be able to get together in the world series, with batting averages and pitching records up to Wednesday's games:

Stan Musial, Cardinals, cf	.358
Enos Slaughter, Cardinals, rf	.357
Alvin Karpis, Pirates, lf	.356
Gil Hodges, Dodgers, 1b	.353
Jackie Robinson, Dodgers, 2b	.343
Freddie Benson, Dodgers, ss	.314
Red Schoendienst, Cardinals, 3b	.307
Roy Campanella, Dodgers, c	.298
Howie Pollet, Cardinals, p	(16-8)
Don Newcombe, Dodgers, p	(16-8)
Warren Spahn, Braves, p	(10-13)

That array brings together the postwar home run king of the majors, Karpis with 53 up to Wednesday; the two leading runs batted in artists, Karpis and Robinson; the league's three top hitters, Robinson, Slaughter, and Musial; the biggest run maker, Reese with 127 scored; and the two biggest winners among the pitchers, Spahn and Pollet.

Reserved, Box Seats Sold Out At Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—No more reserved or box seats are available for the four world series games that may be played in Yankee Stadium, the Yankee management announced Wednesday.

The Yankees began receiving applications for box and reserved seats, sold only in four-game strips, last Monday. All applications received after the supply was exhausted will be returned.

The first and second games, and the sixth and seventh if necessary, will be played at the stadium—if the Yanks win.

tabled in the House of Commons Wednesday.

Hollywood, Oakland Notch Playoff Wins

Hollywood and Oakland, the Pacific Coast League's No. one and two clubs, hold an early lead in the loop's $35,000 Governor's Cup playoffs.

The Oaks had much the easiest time of it last night, plastering four San Diego pitchers for 16 hits for a 13 to 3 win. Milo Candini, meanwhile, was limiting the Padres to seven hits.

The Oaks started off in the first with a two-run lead on Dick Kryhoski's homer and were never headed.

In the other playoff opener, champion Hollywoods squeezed out a 12th inning 4 to 3 win over Sacramento. Shortstop Johnny O'Neill slid home with the winning run on Jesse Dobornie's wild pitch.

O'Neill had singled off hurler Don Johnson's shin, sending the right-hander to the pits. He was not hurt badly.

perhaps Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals as a defensive second baseman. Reese is tops among the shortstops now that Marty Marion of the Cardinals has allowed up a little. Gordon doesn't play third as well as Willie Jones of the Phillies or Grady Hatton of the Reds, but he makes up for it with his hitting.

Campanella, who was understudy to Bruce Edwards as Dodger catcher, came along so brilliantly he took over the number one spot himself and is easily the best in the league.

Edwards, relegated to the bench, probably rates as the number two man, a guy who could be a regular anywhere but in Brooklyn.

"If you can't beat 'em, buy 'em."

That's the advice Boston fans are offering the Red Sox management today following Rae Scarborough's 2 to 1 triumph over the sockers Wednesday night that dumped them into a first-place American League tie with New York Yankees.

The Boston management attempted to buy Scarborough from Washington Senators last winter, but no soap.

Scarborough, a tall 31-year-old North Carolinian, hurt the Red Sox pennant drive last year and his victory Wednesday night may ruin their current hopes.

Boston entered Wednesday night's game aware that a defeat would knock them into a tie with the Yankees for the Stengeleers had downed Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 5, in the afternoon.

While tension mounted in the American League pennant race the picture in the National remained unchanged due to rain in Pittsburgh and Boston.

LEADERS RAINED OUT

The league-leading St. Louis Cardinals' game in Pittsburgh was rained out as was the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers' contest in Boston. The Cards are one game in front of Brooklyn.

Scarborough's 13th victory was not achieved until the last half of the ninth inning. He had allowed only four hits and fanned seven but a fluke double by his opposing pitcher, young Chuck Stobbs, and Dom Dimaggio's single resulted in a run in the sixth inning.

Stobbs, who had yielded only four blows, blew up in the ninth. The Senators put runners on first and third with only one out. Al Kozar then singled to score Gil Coan with the tying run.

BOSOX ACES FAIL

Ellis Kinder, 23-game winner, came in to relieve. Sam Dent greeted Kinder with a single but Ed Robinson, on second base, was forced to stop at third.

Lefty Mel Parnell was rushed in to face pinch-hitter Buddy Lewis, a left-handed hitter. Parnell detected a squeeze play and pitched so wide to Lewis that he couldn't reach the ball and Robinson was an easy out at the plate, Kozar moving to third.

Parnell followed up the "break" with a wild pitch and Kozar romped home with the winning run on the errant throw. The Yankees blew a 4 to 0 lead, the A's scoring five runs in the seventh inning to go out in front but the Yankees came right back with three in their half to win.

In the only other games Wednesday Philadelphia Phillies shut out New York Giants 2 to 0 and Cleveland Indians turned back Chicago White Sox 4 to 2.

Home runs by Del Ennis and Ed Sanicki and the six-hit pitching of Russ Meyer beat the Giants.

Bob Lemof turned in his 22nd victory for Cleveland.

Stock Again Heads Saanich Cage Loop

Ernie Stock was named president of the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League at a meeting Tuesday night. Re-election marked the ninth consecutive year Stock has held the head position of the organization, and it is his 20th year with the group.

Other officers elected were: Noel Andrew, vice-president; George Preston, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Whyte, council member. Stock was elected delegate to the Island body.

Andrew, representing McMoran's intermediate B squads, suggested the league adopt a new plan regarding referees. He noted that on several occasions last year, games were played without official referees.

League entries will close Oct. 10.

POLIO HITS CAMPUS
NEW HAVEN (AP)—Yale University announced Wednesday that Saturday's football game with Fordham has been canceled because of three "mild cases" of polio among the students, one of them a football player. All intramural sports will be called off for 10 days.

Eaton's intermediate A basketball squad will hold a workout Friday night at the Fraser Street Hall at 9.30. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Tigers Even Mann Cup Series With Burrards

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The Mann Cup series for the Dominion's senior lacrosse championship, was all tied up today at one game each following the rugged Hamilton Tigers' 16 to 10 lacing last night of the Vancouver Burrards.

By virtue of their convincing victory, Tigers rule as favorites to retain the crown they won last year at home.

The game last night was more indicative of playoff boxla than the first tilt Monday in the best-of-five series.

And it substantiated Hamilton claims following their 12 to 10 loss then that things would change.

The bigger and more experienced Hamilton crew held the whole show against the fleet Vancouverites, who found that the smaller New Westminster Arena held the same nemesis for them that it did in league play earlier.

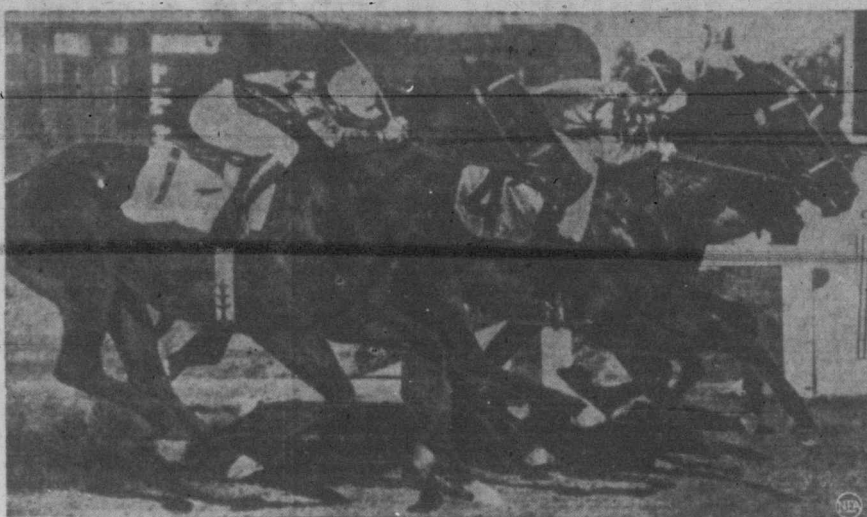

NEVER HEADED

After taking a 5 to 2 lead in the first quarter, Hamilton ran ahead; 10 to 6, at the half and led, 15 to 9, at the end of the third quarter. Burrards roughened play considerably in the last half in an effort to slow down the visitors.

George Masters, Jack Dorney and Blaine McDonald all suffered injuries with Masters retiring for the night in the last frame. Dorney was pronounced ready to play Friday in the third game here, while McDonald's injury was only slight.

Perhaps one big reason for the clean victory last night was the play of young Johnny Green in Burrards' goal. The custodian, red-hot in the opening game, faltered behind goalie Doug Faville of Hamilton, who handled only one less shot in making 27 saves.

Nosey

Vancouver Enters Protest

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Vancouver Burrards will protest to the Canadian Lacrosse Association this morning over last night's Mann Cup contest won 16 to 10 by Hamilton Tigers, it was learned today.

Notice of the protest was given late last night following the game—second in the best-of-five Canadian championship series now tied at one victory apiece. The protest stems from the centre faceoff system used by Hamilton and which Burrards say is illegal.

In last night's contest, pivotman Doug Davidson of Tigers was told by C.L.A. president Lyle Barr that he could use his face-off method which involves standing on the same side of the ball as his opponent.

His method was not allowed in the first contest Monday.

The protesting Burrards base their case on the 1949 rule book wherein a section stipulates that the participants involved in the faceoff "must be facing each other, their left shoulders toward the goal they are attacking."

They claim furthermore that Barr cannot change a rule without balloting all C.L.A. members—which, they say, he did not do.

Expect Six Clubs In Commercial Loop

A total of six teams will be competing in the newly-organized city Commercial Hockey League if present plans work out. Definite starters are the Navy, Douglas Tire and Civil Service. It was announced at an executive meeting of the loop last night.

Saturday has been set as the closing date for entries, and all applications must be accompanied by an entry fee of $10.

It is expected that play will get under way around Oct. 15, with three games on schedule each playing night. Practice sessions will be held on evenings after 10. It was announced that the league champions will enter the provincial playdowns next spring.

Herb Karpel Leading Coast League Hurler

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Oakland's speedy shortstop, Artie Wilson, and Seattle's Herb Karpel topped the Pacific Coast League batters and pitchers, respectively, for the regular season, according to averages released Wednesday.

Wilson, participating in 165 games, rapped out 211 hits in 607 trips to the plate for a .348 average. He also led the league in stolen bases and batted in 37 runs. The Acorns' leadoff man failed to connect for a single four-base blow.

Karpel had a 14 and 6, worst-loss record for a 700 percentage. He struck out 74 batters.

Wilson was followed in the hitting records by Earl Raff, Oakland, .344; Irv Noren, Hollywood, .300; Joe Marty, Sacramento, .327, and Al White, Sacramento, .326.

The big stick of San Diego's Max West boomed out 48 home runs and drove in 165 tallies. He led the league in both departments. His average was .291.

San Francisco's Con Dempsey, who had a 17 and 14 mark, led the league in strikeouts with 164.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—So far there hasn't been any report of a kick from Casey Stengel, but you can add one more to the heated discussions of the 1949 baseball season if Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene, Ont., pitches against the Yankees today.

Connie Mack, the Athletics' venerable manager, said he would pitch Marchildon against the Yanks because of protests when he used Phil against the Red Sox. The point is that Phil, a lame-arm flinger, has hurled in only five games this season and has a record of no victories and three defeats. . . . It sounds almost like conceding the game, and after what happened to the A's yesterday, maybe they might as well concede.

But Marchildon isn't exactly a pushover. Coach Jimmy Dykes says: "He can throw as hard as anyone in this league if he makes up his mind. He may give these guys trouble." . . . And Phil has been telling the Philadelphia writers just the same thing—he's going out with the idea of acting real tough, if he can only find the plate.

—HI, OLE BUDDY—

When Casey Stengel came out to the bench just before yesterday's game, Jimmy Dykes grinned and motioned as if he were tossing a ball in the air. Then he explained: "When we were both managing in the Coast League, the umpires called a game one day because of darkness. We were a run ahead and I didn't even know they had called it. I went out to coach at third base, then noticed that the umps and all the players were gone."

"There was nobody around but old Case. He was tossing a ball up in the air and catching it in front of the crowd and muttering: 'I'm 60 years old and I can see. It ain't dark.' . . . I went over and asked: 'Why don't you protest it?' Case just moaned: 'Who can I protest to? You? The umpires are all gone.'"

Mills Offered Title Fight In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—Promoter Sam Becker Wednesday offered Freddie Mills of England 45 per cent of the net gate to meet Joey Maxim of Cleveland here in a 15-round bout for the world's light heavyweight boxing championship. Mills is the champion and Maxim is recognized as American champion by the National Boxing Association.

Right back came a cablegram from Ted Broadbrib, Mills' manager, saying he was sending a proposition by mail because it was "too complicated to explain in a cable."

The Cincinnati promoter said the fight could be staged anytime from November through February.

Accepted Apology Ends Umpire Dispute

CHICAGO (AP)—Will Harridge, American League president, said Wednesday he had received an "acceptable" telegram of apology from Cliff Mapes, New York Yankees' outfielder, for alleged mistreatment of an umpire.

A league spokesman interpreted Harridge's statement as closing the books on Monday's heated squabble between Mapes and umpire Bill Grieve.

Harridge Tuesday ordered a $200 fine on Mapes and $150 fines on catcher Ralph Houk and manager Casey Stengel for the violent manner in which they protested the winning-run decision in the Boston Red Sox game.

Love Of Sport No Advantage To Athlete Says Percy Williams

By KENNETH LAMB

JASPER PARK LODGE, Alta. (BUP)—Sports fans who ray athletes become all-stars because they love the game, had better not go near Percy Williams of Vancouver. For Percy, who won the 100-metres and 200-metres for Canada at the 1928 Olympics at Amsterdam, would flatten that theory in about three seconds.

The fact is Percy doesn't care for tracks and field—he doesn't like it today and he didn't like it when he was making headlines 21 years ago. He got into the sport just because his friends ran and he wanted to go along with them. In getting to the Olympic Games and in touring the United States and Canada afterwards Percy left his pals, who liked to run, far behind.

Percy explained his sports philosophy at Jasper Park Lodge where he was playing in the annual Totem Pole golf tourney. He said his opinion of sports hadn't changed at all since 1928. He still believes a little sports goes a long way. For that reason he was not entirely at home at a golf tournament where he had to play at a certain time on a certain day. He'd rather play when he felt like it.

Despite only a slight interest in track, Percy had some ideas on how this sport can get back on its feet in Canada. He felt some tracks should install lights so that meets could be held at night. In this way, he said, track could pay its way, as every major sport must do.

Th former Olympic star also had some ideas why American runners were so good at the last Olympic games. Chiefly he credited the large U.S. population and the large percentage of college students. Other American advantages were that in parts of the U.S. track men could run on outdoor tracks all year round, and generally trained under full-time paid coaches. He believed the benefit of expert coaching could not be over-estimated.

TRAINING NO PROBLEM

On the question of training methods Percy had little to say. He had no training worries himself 21 years ago because he was on the skinny side and had no trouble keeping in shape. He still has an athletic figure.

One thing Percy wanted to make clear was what went on in a runner's mind during a race. Percy had read a lot in 1928 about an American runner who said he beat a Canadian to the tape after seeing the Stars and Stripes waving in the Amsterdam stadium.

From his own experience Percy was inclined to doubt this.

He said one of the chief reasons he ran so fast at Amsterdam was that while waiting for the starter's gun on the starting line he was scared "half to death."

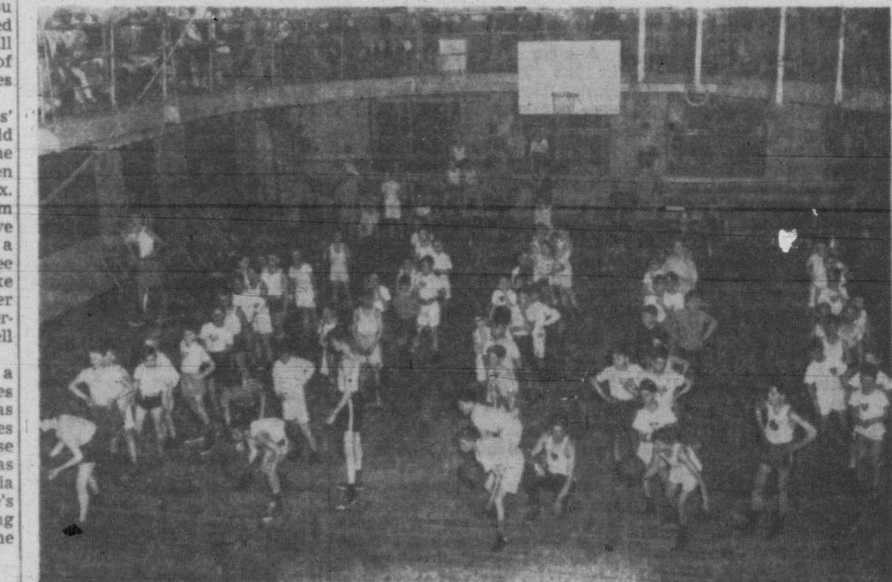

Kermit Wahl Bought

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Athletics Wednesday purchased third-baseman Kermit Wahl from Montreal Royals of the International League for $25,000 and a pitcher.

The A's, besides the cash, gave Montreal right-handed Bill McCahan, who hurled a no-hit, no-run game for the Mackmen in 1947.

McCahan saw little action this season because of a sore arm.

'Y' Produces Citizens As Well As Athletes

Boys ready for relay game at Y.M.C.A.

The physical department of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. is very proud of its activities that go on from year to year and the teaching of correct fundamentals and habits to youngsters from six years of age up. Hundreds are taught to swim every year and in the regular physical classes hints on living and taking care of the body are passed along.

As a by-product of all this, the "Y" has turned out an amazing number of stars in various realms of competition. It has also brought the name of Victoria into much prominence and given the city much valuable publicity.

Victoria has had official representation on every British Empire team and Olympic team since 1928. This year again they placed Miss Joan Morgan and Peter Salmon on the swim team that performs in New Zealand this spring. Victoria was again honored when Bruce Humber was chosen coach for the Canadian track and field team on this trip.

There are hundreds of boys and girls who have made a name for themselves in other fields such as engineering, social welfare work, commerce, physical education and medicine. Many of them have put into writing how much they appreciated what they learned from the Y.M.C.A. Many boys have been aided to enlist in the mounted police, air force and navy. Here is a quotation from a boy who is doing very well in the Mounties:

"It is a good outfit to be in, and the education to be gained through the work is something that would be hard to duplicate anywhere. I still maintain, however, that I owe most of the credit to the Victoria Y.M.C.A. for being in this outfit. If it had not been for the wonderful training that you gave me when I was a member of the junior leaders corps, I doubt if I would ever have made the grade."

Muzz Patrick, who was considered to be Canada's outstanding amateur athlete by eastern sport writers several years ago, wired the local association:

"I honestly believe that the activities and facilities of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. have been the greatest factor in whatever success I have achieved in the field of athletics."

Here is another quote from a young lawyer who is doing excellent work on the mainland with juvenile delinquents:

"In my own particular case I feel that the Y.M.C.A. has definitely directed my approach to World Brotherhood, as well as taught me how to handle my body and think about the other fellow. I am no world beater but I think I am an average good citizen. If I am, it is through the influence mainly of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. during my teen years. I never appreciated or realized it at that time, but as the years go by, I say to myself "what a lucky guy you are."

Here is another from an air force veteran who is a very fine citizen:

"I guess there are many tributes that could be paid the "Y" for what it has done in the past, but I as an individual have many things to thank the Victoria "Y" for. I could possibly list a page full, but the most important is

Eight-Month B.C. Traffic Toll 92; One Less Than In 1948

Traffic accidents on the streets and highways of British Columbia claimed 92 lives during the first eight months of this year, one less than for the corresponding period of 1948.

To officials in the motor vehicle office this represents some progress although they admit that the traffic accident picture in this province could still be improved considerably.

The report for the first eight months of the year, issued today by the office, showed 80 fatal accidents during the first eight months. During the first eight months of 1948 there were 88 fatal accidents.

Persons injured in the 11,100 traffic accidents recorded during the eight-month period of this year numbered 2,864. In the 10,087 accidents recorded during the first eight months of last year, 3,014 persons were injured.

The bill for property damage has gone up from $1,751,140 for the first eight months of 1948 to $2,103,296 for the first eight months of this year. This is an increase of 20.1 per cent.

There were 13.3 per cent more motor vehicles licensed to operate on the highways of the province at the end of August this year than last.

Players' Guild Soon To Present Popular Comedy

For those who saw the Victoria Players' Guild productions, "The Late George Apley" and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," another treat is in store when "The Man Who Came to Dinner," is presented at the Sirocco Oct. 18, 19, 20 and 21. This comedy play by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman ran successfully in New York and is still a popular play on tour.

The play is being directed by Col. Mills, who has been producing plays in Canada since 1930 for the Regina Little Theatre and the Vancouver Little Theatre. In this play he will play the lead, Sheridan Whiteside, who was the man who came to dinner with the Stanley family.

This comedy has a large cast, among whom are names of players who have had considerable experience on the stage, Margaret Wilson, Jerry Gosley, Mickey Francis, Noel Cusack, Helen Smith, Maira Mulholland, Alec McGown and Katharine Soudall.

An S.P.C.A. charge alleging that she unlawfully omitted to provide proper care and attention for a dog, thereby causing unnecessary suffering, was dismissed by Stipendiary Magistrate A. L. Thomas in provincial police court Wednesday afternoon. She was given a certificate of dismissal.

Honor Archdeacon With New Car After 25 Years

More than 300 people filled St. Mary's Church parish hall, Wednesday night, for a family party to honor Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn and Mrs. Nunn on completion of 25 years in the Oak Bay parish, and to witness presentation of a new car to the minister.

Rev. A. E. H. Cameron was in the chair. Bishop Harold E. Sexton for the diocese, Archdeacon J. E. Irwin, Arthur Crease for the congregation, and Reeve R. A. B. Wootton for Oak Bay municipality, spoke briefly commending the work of Archdeacon Nunn in the parish over the past quarter of a century.

On behalf of the parishioners, Maj. G. E. Morris, people's warden, made the presentation of the cheque. Miss Ann Norman, president of the Junior A.Y.P.A., presented Mrs. Nunn with a bouquet of flowers, on behalf of the young people of the parish.

Archdeacon Nunn spoke briefly, thanking the congregation and said the progress made in the parish would not have been possible without the great co-operation and support of all parishioners.

During the evening J. Gerry, organist, led community singing. Dudley Wickett and Betty Kerr were soloists. Special guests included Bishop Sexton and Mrs. Sexton, Mrs. C. D. Schofield, Mrs. B. T. O'Grady and Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Wickens. Wardens and their wives and heads of church organizations welcomed the guests.

Salmon Pack Exceeds Six-Year Average

British Columbia's 1949 salmon pack is running well ahead of the five-year average to this time, a report of the chief supervisor of fisheries showed today. To last Saturday 1,337,533 48-pound cases had been turned out by B.C. canneries. This compared with an average for the previous five years of 1,172,304 cases.

The coho pack is at a six-year high for this date, while the pink pack is well ahead of all years since 1945. The sockeye pack is slightly ahead of 1948 but below average while the chum pack is also well below average.

Says Industrial Germany Needed For Economic Future Of Europe

A first-hand account of industrial recovery in Germany since the end of the European war was given by the Rotary Club this afternoon by Miss Margaret Mackie, who addressed a club meeting in the Empress Hotel.

Miss Mackie left Victoria in 1936 to take a position at B.C. House, London; during the war served as an officer in the W.R.C.N.S., and subsequently served four years with the export-import agency of the British Foreign Office in Frankfurt. She returned to Victoria this month.

Dealing with her work with the Foreign Office, Miss Mackie told of seeing the rapid growth of Germany's export business.

"When we arrived in the British zone of Germany just a few weeks after V-E Day all industry was at a standstill and it remained that way for some time," she said in her address.

It wasn't until early 1946, she continued, that first small exports from the British zone were made. Then, what trading was done, was all done on a governmental basis.

"Contracts were drawn up between the German Control Commission and the foreign offices concerned, most of which were represented in Germany by economic missions."

With the merging of British and American zones at the beginning of 1947, the Joint Export-Import Agency was created and charged with developing trade so the bizonal would be on a sound economic basis.

GERMANS TAKE OVER

Coincident with the creation of this agency was the commencement of the gradual turning over of responsibility to the Germans.

"Every kind of obstacle beset the German manufacturers in those days," Miss Mackie recalled. "Raw materials were lacking, many of the factories were damaged, electricity was constantly being cut, there were few packing materials and workers were undernourished and badly clothed—no one could expect a full day's work from them."

Despite these difficulties, progress was made and by the end of 1947 monthly exports came close to the $30,000,000 mark. Black markets flourished throughout the country at this time, however, so that manufacturers were not particularly interested in exerting themselves to capture export markets for their products. They could make as much, if not more, selling on the black markets at home.

"To provide an incentive, military governors approved a ten-per-cent foreign currency bonus on all exports," Miss Mackie said. "This gave a substantial impetus to export for the balance of the period prior to currency reform."

BLACK MARKETS' END

Currency reform in June of 1948, said Miss Mackie, was one of the greatest single factors in boosting Germany's export business. The day after revaluation, goods appeared on store shelves and black market business ended.

"In the space of only a few months Western Germany was in the position of having the supply of goods far exceeding demand," the speaker said.

By November, 1948, the value of Germany's export business was over $70,000,000. April of this year, it hit the $100,000,000 mark.

Archbishop Of York Here Saturday; Official Welcome

Premier Byron Johnson, representing the government of British Columbia, will be among the dignitaries at Victoria's Pat Bay airport, to greet Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Dr. Cyril Foster Garbett, Lord Archbishop of York and Primate of England, who will arrive by air from San Francisco, Saturday evening.

He will be met at the airport by Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sexton, bishop of British Columbia. Mayor Percy George will carry the welcome of the city of Victoria.

A peal of welcome will be sounded on the bells of Christ Church Cathedral. Owing to the lateness of his arrival a proposed public reception had to be canceled.

The Archbishop, who will be special preacher at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning at Christ Church Cathedral, will be the guest of Lieut-Governor Charles A. Banks and Mrs. Banks, at Government House. He will leave the city on the afternoon boat Sunday for Vancouver, where he will be welcomed at the C.P.R. dock by Mayor Charles Thompson. Bishop Sexton will accompany him to the mainland city.

Dr. Garbett will address the Vancouver Canadian Club Monday afternoon and in the evening will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity of the Anglican Theological College in University Convocation Hall, Vancouver.

SERVICE BROADCAST

The service in Victoria Sunday morning will be broadcast and radios will be installed in most local churches. It is expected the archbishop will be celebrant of the Holy Communion at 8 in the morning.

The third subject of the King in order of precedence, being preceded only by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Lord Chancellor, Dr. Garbett has traveled extensively in eastern Europe since the Second World War and is one of the few men having first-hand information on the Russian situation.

"He has greatly influenced the very happy relationships which exist between the Anglican Church and the great Orthodox churches of eastern Europe," said Bishop Sexton, who is arranging the Pacific Northwest itinerary for the distinguished visitor.

... distinguished visitor

Vicar of the large industrial parish of Portsea and subsequently Bishop of Southwark, before his elevation in 1942 as the second highest official of the Church of England, the archbishop was well acquainted with slum conditions and the need for better housing for the people.

Appalled by the London slums, Dr. Garbett used all his influence to improve living conditions and caused a mild sensation in 1927 when he publicly advocated labeling all tenement houses with the names of their owners.

Southwark was the district that General Charles Booth of the Salvation Army once described as "the greatest area of unbroken poverty in England." Following his bishopric in Southwark, Dr. Garbett was Bishop of Winchester for 10 years. He succeeded the Rt. Rev. William Temple, who became Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of All England in 1942.

Author of many books on the practical problems of church work, he has been active in the House of Lords in support of moderate social reforms. In writings and speeches, he has vigorously opposed dictatorships, unnecessarily severe war censorship, sex novels and "road hogs."

A son of a country parson, Dr. Garbett was educated at Portsmouth Grammar School and was a distinguished graduate of Keble College, Oxford, where he won honors in history. He attended Theological College at Cuddesdon, Oxford, and in 1898 was elected president of the Oxford Union, famed university debating society.

He will be accompanied on his present visit to Victoria by his chaplain, Rev. John Kent.

A fine of $10 and $3 costs was imposed against Douglas MacSween in provincial police court Wednesday afternoon on a charge of illegal possession of a willow grouse. There is no open season this year on willows.

"Bizonal Germany's 'road to viability' plan for the five years ending December, 1952, calls for monthly exports of $200,000,000," she noted. "At the present rate, it looks as though this may be achieved."

Other European countries are still Germany's best customers, Miss Mackie said. The more important buyers are France, Great Britain, the Netherlands, Belgium, Austria, Switzerland, Sweden and Luxembourg. Coal is the chief export with iron and steel next, and textiles, cotton fabrics, chemicals, lumber and sawmill products also rank high.

On the import side, largely because of foreign aid and the European Recovery Program, about 60 per cent of bizonal Germany's imports come from the U.S. Next in importance are Belgium, Great Britain, France, the Netherlands and Sweden.

Miss Mackie said that while some objections had been raised over the rebuilding of Germany's industries, the economic future for the whole of Europe depended largely on Germany's industrial strength.

"Germany will offer severe competition in many lines," she warned, "but it will not again be in a position to undercut by virtue of government subsidies which were the vogue during the Nazi regime."

Concluding her address, Miss Mackie observed: "Perhaps the one thing which will help the Germans most in their recovery is the fact that they have not lost their ability to work. They always were a hard-working people, and they still are."

Senior Wartime British Officer Visiting Victoria

"Whenever the name of Scotland is mentioned to people in Canada their faces seem to light up," said Maj.-Gen. Sir James Syme DREW, retired British army officer, who is visiting Victoria before returning to the United Kingdom early next month.

Sir James who was a senior officer of Training Combined Operations and director-general of the Home Guard and Territorial Army during the war, came in contact with many Canadians who served overseas. "Canadians who served overseas seemed all to have enjoyed Scotland," he said. "I have certainly enjoyed meeting them again."

Sir James, who is head of the British Legion, Scotland, came to Canada to attend the British Empire Service League conference which was held in Ottawa between Sept. 11 and 17. He said the two main problems facing the British Legion were pensions and the resettlement of veterans.

"While there is plenty of work in Britain today," he said, "We are having some difficulty in placing older veterans between the ages of 40 and 50."

Speaking of modern warfare, Sir James said many new factors had entered in the matter of defence. "I am not in contact with what is going on now," he said, "but many new defence problems have arisen since the war."

Sir James who entered the army in 1902 has been awarded many decorations. His awards include, K.B.E., C.B., D.S.O., M.C. and D.L.

He is at present staying at the home of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Watson, 2546 Orchard Avenue.

Calls For Greater Road Courtesy Here

Mayor Percy George today calls for greater courtesy on the part of motorists, pedestrians and cyclists to improve traffic conditions in the city.

He had received a complaint from a cyclist who claimed car drivers seldom gave the right-of-way to the pedestrian or bicyclist.

The chief magistrate was inclined to agree that some motorists think power, in the form of six or eight-cylinder engines, gave them the right-of-way at all times, and he thought they should change these ideas.

"If a spirit of give and take and tolerance is practiced by motorists we'll have a much better condition here," the mayor said.

The car driver was not always at fault, though, he added. There were some pedestrians, and cyclists, too, who invited beligerency on the part of motorists by their attitude of almost daring the man at the wheel to cross their path.

FUNERAL SATURDAY—Top-ranking military men will attend the funeral Saturday of Brig. C. E. Connolly, D.S.O., who died in Jubilee Hospital Wednesday after a lingering illness. The service will be held at Hayward's Funeral Chapel at 3 Brig. Connolly was stationed at Work Point before the outbreak of World War II, after which he commanded many of the other military districts in Canada.

In his letter Mayor George speaks of his admiration for Mr. Cox's quick-thinking action.

"I have since learned the lad was apparently half-drowned when you brought him ashore, and I have no doubt but that your total disregard for yourself in unhesitatingly going to his rescue saved his life and averted what otherwise might have been a regrettable tragedy," the mayor's letter reads.

"I am proud that one of the employees of the city of Victoria displayed such courage in going to the help of a boy in distress," the mayor said.

Veteran Three-Master Back In Service On High Seas

YARMOUTH, N.S. (EUP)—Years ago, the wives and families used to stand on the coast of Nova Scotia, watching for ships with great white sails. The schooners of the day would come dipping out of the stormy Atlantic, sometimes with their sails torn, their crews weary, unshaven and "salted."

But the days of the three-masted sailing ships, once the pride of Canada's east coast, died away. The old ports of Halifax and Yarmouth lost the color of the white schooner sails tinged with rose in the sunset.

But one of the old veterans, the City of New York, sailed into the port of Yarmouth as graceful and as gallant as ever, in spite of her black and dusty cargo of coal from Philadelphia.

On board was Capt. Louis Kennedy of Bridgewater, N.S., his wife, two sons and daughter. Kennedy told the story of the schooner Samson, now named the City of New York.

She was built in Arendal, Norway, in 1885, and her builders made her for dangerous journeys into the Arctic on sealing expeditions and on explorations.

Ronald Amundsen famous Norwegian explorer, was among the men who became her masters, the same Amundsen who reached both the north and the south poles, and in 1928 set out in search of the Nobles Italia and was never heard from again.

SAILED WITH BYRD

Admiral Richard Byrd got the tough but graceful ship in 1928, to outfit her for the famous Byrd expedition to the Antarctic of 1928. He who renamed her the City of New York and so she remains today.

But her history was the Samson will never be forgotten.

After the Byrd expedition the schooner fell into the hands of a private firm and she went on display as a museum piece on the Atlantic Coast.

But the old Samson was restless, and during the war she answered the call to the colors and went into the United States Navy.

It was from the United States that Kennedy bought her.

She was then little more than hulk, and her former glory was hidden under the barnacles and the weather-eaten paint that covered her sides.

Kennedy took her to Day-spring, U.S., and the old boat-builders of the port got to work on her.

Months later she was a proud three-masted schooner—once more—completely refitted, with new decks, new cabins, new hatches, new masts and new rigging.

The boatbuilders didn't have to touch her sides. They are three feet through, the thickest of any ship in the world except warships. Her triple planking is 14 inches and her bow is as strong as an ice-breaker—for ramming ice.

Kennedy has taken her to the Arctic, Hudson Bay and Baffin-land on duty for the Royal Canadian Air Force. She has used her to trade to the West Indies, to Newfoundland, and to the United States. She has also carried timber from the Bay of Fundy for American ports.

Mystery House

PRETORIA, South Africa (CP)—The Soviet consulate building here, gutted recently by a fire which started during the showing of a film, remains "a house of mystery," the South African Press Association reports.

The press association says even police do not know the identity of a Russian official who was trapped in a sealed room during the fire and was rescued by firemen who cut through a steel-barred window of the building to release him.

The report says the house is in darkness by night and electricians are not yet permitted to make repairs. A consulate member has repaired the broken steel grid over the window of the sealed room.

Local women report amazing results with new home beauty routine

If your skin gets dry or rough, if unattractive blemishes sometimes mar its loveliness—here's news of vital interest to you.

A noted skin specialist has developed a new home beauty treatment that many smart Canadian women are now using. It's a new ideal!

Here's what happened!

181 women recently followed this simple 4-step routine—using Noxzema Medicated Cream—under the supervision of 3 skin specialists. Each woman had some little thing wrong with her skin—blemishes, roughness, dryness, or some other little annoyance.

Here are the results of this test. 4 out of 5 women actually showed softer, smoother, lovelier skin—in only 2 weeks!

Get acquainted with this new idea in beauty care and let Noxzema help your skin to new natural loveliness. Here's all you do:

1. Morning—bathe face with warm water, apply Noxzema with a wet cloth and "cream-wash" your face.
2. Apply Noxzema as a powder base.
3. Evening—before retiring, repeat morning cleansing.
4. Massage Noxzema lightly into your face. Pat on extra Noxzema over any blemishes.

Lovely Rita Tennant of Vancouver says she hasn't found anything to equal Noxzema. "It's wonderful to help clear up annoying skin blemishes," says Rita. "I use it as my regular night cream"... Dainty, too, Noxzema is greaseless—doesn't stain.

Attractive Norma Forshaw, Toronto, says she now uses Noxzema religiously—morning and night. "I had the usual teen-age blemishes," she says, "but they soon vanished after using Noxzema. Now it's my regular powder base and night cream."

SPECIAL OFFER

Try it yourself! See how quickly your skin responds. Now's the best time, too—your once-a-year opportunity to get Noxzema at a special money-saving price. While this Anniversary Offer lasts, you can get the big 6-ounce 93¢ jar of Noxzema for only 79¢—at all drug and cosmetic counters.

May Set Minimum Wage Rate Of £5 A Week In Britain

LONDON (CP)—A minimum wage of £5 ($15.50) a week for adult workers may result from the Labor government's decision to devalue the pound.

The proposal is still in the talking stage. In effect, it would be a sort of last-gasp attempt by organized labor to squeeze what solace it can out of the national emergency.

Trade unions have been long hostile to the idea of a fixed minimum rate. Those who support it now say it is the only possible way of protecting lower-paid workers against increases in living costs which are sure to follow devaluation.

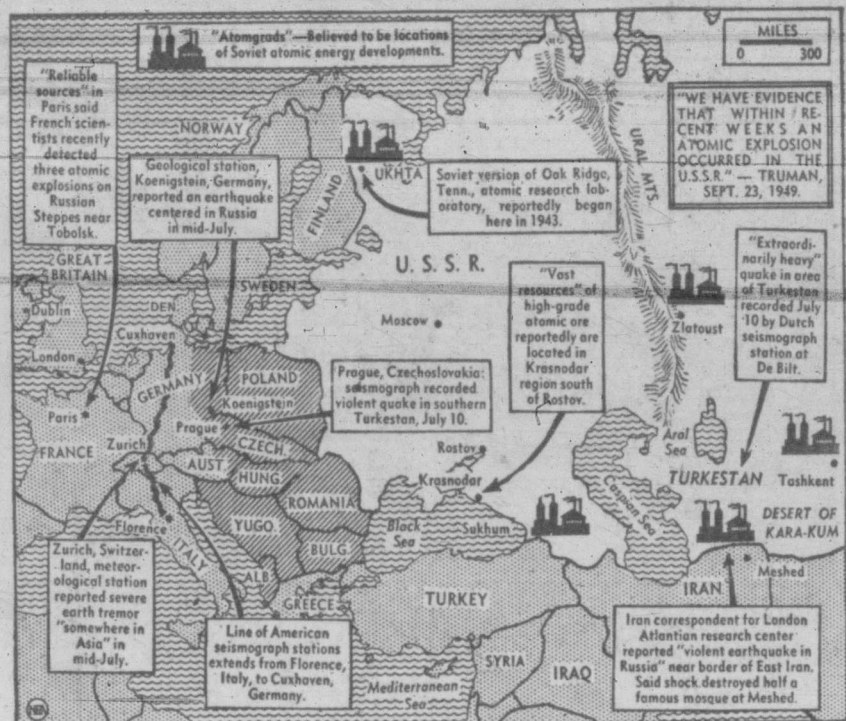

Sam Watson, chairman of the Labor Party, said last week that in the present circumstances the only men who could obtain wage increases would be those in the lower income groups. Prime Minister Attlee referred in a speech at the Trades Union Congress conference to "justifiable advances" for these groups.

UNDERSTANDING NEEDED
Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on the other hand, has repeatedly said there must be no wage increases. Presumably, however, the Chancellor would have no objections to the small outlay required to bring all workers up to a £5 minimum—on the firm understanding that wage increases stopped there.

The average wage for all British workers now is about £7 a week.

The proposal that there should be a floor below which no workers should be allowed to fall was understood to have been broached by the T.U.C. at last Monday's meeting with Sir Stafford and other government leaders. The Chancellor was said to have reacted favorably to the suggestion.

If the suggestion for a national minimum fizzes out, unions at least will insist that lower-paid workers are entitled to wage increases when prices rise.

Sir Richard L. McCreery, G.C.B., K.B.E., D.S.O., M.C., one of the world's foremost authorities on the use of armored weapons in war.

Officers of the Armored Corps

School at the camp, where the monument has been erected on a conspicuous site, say it will stand for generations to come as a fitting tribute to Canadian tankmen everywhere.

Unveiling of the cairn will highlight the 27th annual general meeting of the Royal Canadian Armored Corps Association (Cavalry) being held at the school Sept. 27 to Oct. 1.

Gen. McCreery also will be guest speaker at the Association's annual dinner Thursday evening.

One of Britain's most colorful soldiers, he has held the appointment of Maj.-Gen. of the Royal Armored Corps, served as Chief of Staff to Field Marshal, now Viscount, Alexander, and was Commander-in-chief of the British Army on the Rhine. In May 1946 he was appointed Chief of the United Kingdom representatives to the Military Staff Committee of the United Nations, with headquarters in New York.

WIND INCREASES

The force of wind increases with the square of velocity. A 30-mile wind compares with a 10-mile wind as 900 compares with 100. For this reason, a small increase in velocity accounts for a great increase in wind damage.

Canada Demands More Cars Than Big-Four Producers Can Supply

TORONTO (BUP)—Motor show exhibitors at the Canadian National Exhibition revealed Canadians are demanding more automobiles than the Big Four motor producers can supply.

This abnormal demand was despite the ever increasing gains in production, they said.

There was a ready market for small-wheelbase, English and foreign-built automobiles, but producers said the average Canadian consumer is waiting to purchase a new Canadian or U.S.-built car.

In the "Big Four" auto market, delivery on General Motors' most popular car, the Chevrolet, normally takes six months from placing of the order, a G.M. salesman said. While on the other hand, the Chrysler Company's most popular car, the Plymouth is delivered anywhere from eight months to a year after the order is placed.

Studebaker was the only company at the C.N.E. to display its new 1950 model. This car will not go into mass production until March of 1950, while the new "land cruiser" will not be available to the Canadian consumer until early next summer.

Salesmen agreed that delivery of U.S.-made cars under embargo and quota are very poor, but there are some companies, like Hudson and Kaiser Fraser, that have a few models on hand. However, dealers of these makes, said they could not promise any deliveries for the near future.

Agents for Nash, Willys-Overland and Packard, all said that deliveries across the border were poor and they cannot commit themselves on any definite delivery dates.

Law Should Have Heavy Hand

Dr. E. Burnett, 82-year-old London pathologist, believes that to spare the red is to spoil the child. And he thinks policemen ought to be allowed to apply the rod.

Testifying at the inquest into the death of a nine-year-old boy drowned in the Thames, he said: "When I was a boy I fell in a river. A policeman fished me out. He made sure there was nothing wrong with me, took off his belt and gave me a good hiding."

"It taught me a lesson I have never forgotten."

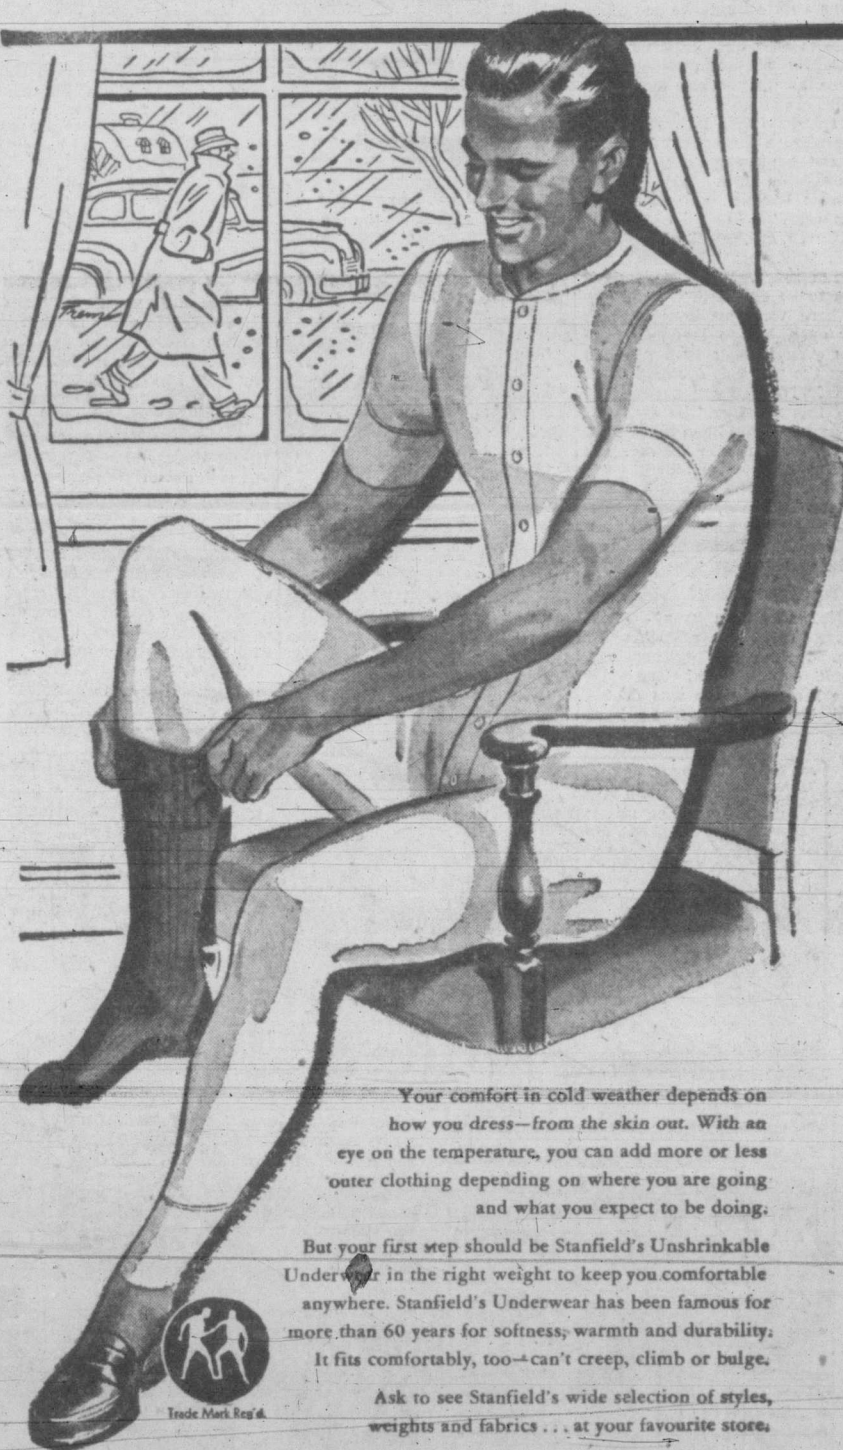

"If policemen had power to give naughty youngsters a good licking on the spot a great many children would benefit and a number of lives might be saved. . . . I know the police well and I am certain they would not abuse it."

REVERSE CURTAINS

Continuous exposure to sunlight weakens curtain fabrics, particularly around hemlines where they are not usually protected by shades. To counteract the effect of Old Sol's rays use curtains with equal size hems top and bottom so the curtains may be reversed from time to time after laundering.

Principal Characters:

ARTHUR DOLLIMORE: A very modern, sophisticated, and sophisticated police officer.
SUPERINTENDENT DUCROS: An older and more experienced police officer.
SILAS ROLLITER: A collector whose knowledge of the law enables him to ignore it for a time.
MRS. LEWIN: The wealthy widow of a South African magnate.
MARY STENNING: Her young secretary and companion.
MONTY FERNANDEZ: Who manages the Mossford County Club—savage and cosmopolitan.

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS

SUPERINTENDENT DUCROS and STATION INSPECTOR DOLLIMORE arrive as guests at the Mossford County Club, run by MONTY FERNANDEZ, in what was once a gracious English manor house. They have been sent to track FLASH CARDEN, a former associate of Fernandez, who has arrived in the club. While they are there, LEWIN is found murdered. The detective makes investigations. They interview RONNIE GLENHIRE, but MARY STENNING, FERNANDEZ and ROLLITER, SADDIE FARMAN, and her sister disagree with that of Fernandez. The police are also curious about one MCKENZIE, whom ROLLITER admits to have been his companion that evening. He is vague as to his whereabouts now.

INSTALLMENT 11

I WAS AWAKE ALL NIGHT

At the sight of Mary Stenning descending the stairs, Dollimore paused and greeted her.
"I was just going out for a breath of air," she said, a little formally, as though obliged to explain her movements.
"You've had breakfast?" Dollimore inquired.
"A cup of tea—all I want."
"May I come with you?"
"Please do. I wanted to talk to you. Mr. Ducros seems so suspicious, somehow."
"No—no!" smiled Dollimore. "That's just his manner. Isn't it a lovely morning," he said as they stood at the top of the steps overlooking the park.
The policeman on duty there struck the one inharmonious note. He saluted Inspector Dollimore as they went down the steps.
"I had no idea last night that you were a detective," she said.
"I'm beginning to wonder if I am," he said. "So far, we haven't detected very much in this case."
"I was awake all night," she said, "thinking."
"I'm sorry. But I suppose it was to be expected."
There were shadows beneath her eyes, but to Dollimore she was even lovelier than she had been the previous evening.
"I had hoped for a round of golf this morning," he said.
"And I should have taken Mrs. Lewin for a run in the car. It's wicked, Mr. Dollimore, she burst out. "She was the nicest woman I have ever known. She was more like a mother to me." He nodded. "As a mother, she had not been particularly lucky."
TWICE IN PRISON
"No. The son was—he'd almost killed her affection for him. He was really hopeless. Drink, drink, drink. The only time I saw him last night—He'd been in prison at least twice. He nearly broke her heart. He was sent down from Oxford—among other things."

"I suppose you will have to make new plans now?" he asked after a silence.

"Yes. Something will turn up."

"I hope we shall keep in touch with each other."

"So do I," she said simply.

"I have very few friends in this country. I shall have to leave here, of course. I imagine Mr. ROLLITER will be in charge of all arrangements."

"You don't like him?"

"No. I don't know why, but I don't. He has always been courteous and, indeed, kind to me, but there is something about his expression. Perhaps it's merely my fancy."

"Mrs. Lewin apparently trusted him."

"I often wondered. I don't think she trusted anybody very much. Perhaps I was an exception."

"I don't know what is going to happen today. Your friend Parminter is coming this morning, by the way."

She made no comment.

"If I can get an hour off after tea, would you care for a stroll or a run with me?"

"I should. Usually I don't mind loneliness but I don't seem able to read or to get my mind away from this terrible affair. To think of her lying dead up there!"

"I'm afraid I shall have to go back now," he said. "My eminent colleague will be snorting if I don't. I see him waiting on the steps."

"I shall stroll on," she said, and added, "It is very kind of you."

"Rot!" he said. "Promise me you won't be miserable."

"I'll try not to be," she smiled.

And with the memory of her smile he turned back to the club, where the Superintendent awaited him.

"I noticed you snooping off," Ducros said. "Made an arrest yet?"

"Not exactly. She's a very arresting girl, though. But I managed to glean some information about the son."

"Oh!"

"He's a heavy drinker, a general scamp and he's been in prison at least twice."

"What for?"

"I didn't actually ask her."

Ducros looked at his young colleague. "You're sorry for her?"

"Naturally."

"You're certain that she didn't do it?"

"Quite. Where are Fernandez and Rolliter? They're late."

CLEARED THE WAY

"Fernandez is down. I think he's in his office. Rolliter has gone back to town. We didn't want him and he'll be back this evening or in the morning. By the way, between half-past eight and half-past nine last night—that is, I think, the material time—the servants were at supper. None of them was missing excepting the two waiters who were on duty upstairs. That rather simplifies things."

"I didn't think it was one of the servants. But it means that whoever did it had a clear run and probably knew that the servants would be out of the way. Fernandez—or anyone else—could have walked from his office up the back stairs and down again without a soul being the wiser."

"But that doesn't get us any farther!" Ducros said.

"It does. You have the motive and the opportunity."

"That makes it sound very simple. Personally, I wish I'd never seen this infernal place. Here we have a murder committed almost under our eyes and we don't know a darn thing about it. Somebody's going to smile."

A maid nervously announced that Mr. Parminter had arrived.

"Bring him out here," said Ducros and went on to Dollimore. "We shall be quite alone in that corner."

Parminter proved to be a big, fair-haired fellow with level blue eyes.

"It's good of you to come so quickly," said Ducros. "Come over to that table in the corner, will you?"

"Murder," said the flower-grower as he sank heavily into a chair. "So that is the end of it! I'm not altogether surprised."

DOLLIMORE IS SURPRISED

Ducros and Dollimore exchanged glances and remained silent.

"Apart from her money and her marriage, my poor aunt was not a bad soul. She was merely stupid," he went on.

"Smoke?" suggested Dollimore and held out his cigarette case.

"I do not smoke," said Mr. Parminter. "It almost seems as if Fate were taking a hand," he went on. "That money—that vast mass of money—was made dishonestly. My uncle should have ended in prison, instead of which he died almost in the odor of sanctity."

"Diamonds, wasn't it?" Dollimore asked in order to start the strange fellow again.

"Yes. Obtained illegally from the men who risked their lives to smuggle them from the newly-found diamond deposits along the coast. The smugglers risked their lives—if that be a virtue—but my uncle risked nothing. And now it has ended in murder. All that is left is the half-imbecile son—a drunken parasite. Which shows the value of a vast and unhealthy accumulation of money."

"Our main job at the moment is to find the man or woman who murdered your aunt."

"So that he may be hanged by the neck until he is dead?"

"Precisely," agreed Ducros.

"And you expect me to help you?"

"I expect every law-abiding citizen to help me. Moreover, it is the obvious duty of every such citizen."

"I am opposed to capital punishment in all circumstances," said the flower-grower.

"I think I am, too," Ducros said, surprisingly. "But I'm afraid we haven't time to discuss the ethical aspect of the case with you—interesting as it no doubt would be. Our job is to see that the law—altogether apart from whether we, as individuals, agree with it or not—is carried out. Our job is to find the murderer and hand him over to justice. What happens then is the concern of justice—not of us."

Canada-South Africa Airmail Chess Match To Last Two Years

By LARRY OUELLETTE

MONTREAL (CP)—Airborne armies of kings, queens, knights and bishops will swoop down on Canada and South Africa next month when the two Commonwealth countries tangle in a gigantic air-mail chess match.

Fifty chess players from Canada, ranging from the humble "wood-pusher" to the full-fledged expert, will engage a similar number of South Africans. The match will begin next Saturday and will extend over two years.

Each player will play two airmail games with his opponent, one with the white pieces and one with the black. The players hope to make 18 moves each every year. All games uncompleted will be adjudicated.

The match is looked upon as part of a program of building up intra-Commonwealth competition.

Canada at present is playing a 140-board air-mail match with Britain, started two years ago. In 1947 the Dominion bowed out 5½-4½ to Australia in a radio match.

Captain of the Canadian team in the match with South Africa is Dudley M. Le Dain of Montreal, high-ranking Canadian expert. Four classes of players will clash in the 100-game match.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—

City Court Judge Charles G. Kelly thumbed through a stack of warrants on the bench and called "Frank Young!"

Young walked to the bar cheerfully, smiled at the judge, made a motion as if taking a drink of whisky and nodded.

Young is a mule. It was his way of pleading guilty to a drunkenness charge.

He was fined $5.

LADYSMITH—Proposed addition of two rooms to Saltair School was protested by a delegation from the southern end of Saltair School District when they appeared before trustees of Ladysmith School District.

"We cannot see the advantage of adding two rooms at Saltair when a school is to be built at Chemainus," the spokesman said. "Two rooms should be added at Chemainus."

The delegation contended a rural school could not provide educational advantages to be found in a larger school. The board pointed out the Cameron Report recommended providing rural school accommodation in order that children might attend near their homes.

The board recommended that the delegates approach their school representative about calling a ratepayers' meeting on the question.

Hearing Of Alcan Application To Open Oct. 20 At Burns Lake

Hearings by the controller of water rights on the application of the Aluminum Company of Canada Ltd. for a water right on the Nechako River will open Oct. 20 at Burns Lake, it was learned today.

It is understood that the hearing, before Maj. R. C. Farrow, will be concluded in Victoria following the Burns Lake sittings. A formal announcement of the hearings is expected to be made in a day or two by the government.

The Aluminum Company of Canada Ltd. is seeking a water right on the Nechako River for a vast hydro-electric project to provide power for an aluminum reduction plant and other purposes. The project, if it is undertaken, is expected to cost between $350,000,000 and $500,000,000.

The company has also applied for a water right on the Chilco River but it is understood that the hearing of this application will not be proceeded with immediately. If the Nechako site proves satisfactory, the company may drop its application for the Chilco water right.

Surveys now are under way at the Nechako site to determine the feasibility of that project. At last reports, no satisfactory footings for the proposed huge dam had been found.

This dam would raise the level of water in a dozen or so lakes in the Tweedsmuir Park area. The water would then be diverted through the mountains to power plants at or near tide-water.

If the Nechako dam proves unfeasible, the company as an alternative may investigate a series of dams to raise the levels of various lakes.

Chief opposition to the granting of the water right on the Nechako is expected to come from landowners in the area which may be inundated and from the fisheries industry.

To date, however, the fisheries industry has not expressed so much concern about the Nechako as the Chilco application.

JOINS R.C.A.F. BAND
Carl Benn, well-known Victoria musician, left for Edmonton today to join the R.C.A.F. as a musician and play the clarinet in the R.C.A.F. band stationed at Edmonton. Mr. Benn was principal 'cellist with the Victoria Junior Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Harold Taylor, 'cellist, from 1929 to 1933. He left Victoria in 1937 for London, Eng., where he studied at the Guildhall School of Music until the outbreak of war, when he enlisted in the British Army. Mr. Benn eventually transferred to the Canadian Army. He played clarinet with the R.C.A.S.C. Band on his return to Victoria. In 1946 he joined the symphony orchestra as 'cellist.Protest Addition To Saltair School
LADYSMITH—Proposed addition of two rooms to Saltair School was protested by a delegation from the southern end of Saltair School District when they appeared before trustees of Ladysmith School District.

"We cannot see the advantage of adding two rooms at Saltair when a school is to be built at Chemainus," the spokesman said. "Two rooms should be added at Chemainus."

The delegation contended a rural school could not provide educational advantages to be found in a larger school. The board pointed out the Cameron Report recommended providing rural school accommodation in order that children might attend near their homes.

The board recommended that the delegates approach their school representative about calling a ratepayers' meeting on the question.

RED THREAT?—Residents of Piedmont, Calif., were startled to see floating lazily overhead a giant balloon bearing a bright red hammer-and-sickle insignia. Closer investigation by local police revealed the balloon was of a type that takes a limited ride on a liberal shot of hot air. Police also noted that the airborne mystery came from the direction of the University of California campus.

Internal Strife In S.P.C.A. As Three Top Officers Quit

A major split in the Victoria branch of the S.P.C.A. was revealed today in the announcement of the resignation of the three top officers of the society. The three who have withdrawn are James Barr, president; Mrs. Florence Barr, his wife, secretary, and Mrs. E. Williams, first vice-president.

Mr. and Mrs. Barr said they were resigning because “we can no longer accept the responsibilities of office in the society due to the unconstitutional activities of certain members of the committee, and dissatisfaction with the employees.”

On the other hand the opposing faction in the organization claimed the resignations climaxed a series of internal troubles in which three of the humane society employees, a shelter caretaker, an inspector and an office stenographer threatened to quit their jobs unless an organizational housecleaning was effected. It was claimed also that many members had complained about certain arbitrary dealings in the past.

It is understood that a special general meeting of the members will be held shortly when a full explanation of the upheaval will be aired.

Meanwhile, Percy Heywood will head the society until an election of officers can be held.

Would Prevent Sale Of Chocolate Milk

TORONTO (CP)—A proposal that Toronto “clean house” by stopping the sale of chocolate milk, candy bars and pop in school cafeterias is made by Dr. Stewart A. MacGregor, well-known child dentist.

He told the Toronto nutrition committee Wednesday night that the excess of sugar being consumed by children is responsible for the increase in the incidence of rickets in Toronto school pupils. In certain categories 10 per cent of the children show bone defects, he said.

“I have known children's teeth to fall to pieces as a result of drinking chocolate milk,” said Dr. MacGregor.

Railway Fatality

VANCOUVER (BUP)—One man lost his life and another is in hospital after a train mishap at the Squamish railway station. A man tentatively identified as a Mr. Smythe was killed when a Pacific Great Eastern train struck a baggage cart protruding over the tracks.

A second man, Simon Pum, sustained injuries to his left arm when hit by the flying baggage cart. Pum was flown to Vancouver and taken to a hospital, where his condition today was described as “fairly good.”

Squamish, the southern terminus of the P.G.E., is 40 miles from Vancouver.

Tipple Dynamited

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—A coal company tippie was blown up today in a fresh outbreak of violence in Pennsylvania's soft coal fields.

Robely W. Smith, president of the Junedale Coal Company at Grass Flat, Pa., said the dynamite blast damaged generators and motors in the building, ripped off the roof and tore off part of one side.

Smith said the tippie was valued at $10,000 and that it will take a week before he can resume operations.

He ordered his strip mining operation to shut down Wednesday after, Smith said, United Mine Workers pickets attacked his non-union truckers.

Aussies To Ration Gas

MELBOURNE (Reuter)—Gasoline is to be rationed again in Australia, premiers and ministers representing the six Australian states agreed Wednesday. Gasoline has been unrationed since June 6, when the Australian High Court ruled the Commonwealth's rationing regulations invalid. Prime Minister Chifley said the government could not increase gasoline imports because of the dollar shortage.

Citizens Hurry To Streets

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—An underground rock burst in the McIntyre Forcypine gold mine today shook this northern Ontario mining community.

R. J. Ennis, vice-president and general manager of the mine, one of the largest of the area's 11 gold mines, said in a statement that "at 1.15 p.m., E.S.T. today a rock burst took place between the 3,500 and 3,600-foot levels of the McIntyre Mine."

"Only minor damage is reported and no persons were injured," he said.

Major force of the blast, which lasted only 15 seconds, was felt in the north end of this city of 30,000 persons and in adjoining Schumacher.

No casualties were reported in the area and damage appeared late today to be limited to broken china and cracked windows in city homes.

Residents who poured into the streets in the early afternoon were puzzled at the cause of the blast. Many thought it an earthquake and others, with mining experience, believed it to be a spontaneous air blast underground.

In his brief statement Mr. Ennis did not state details of the blast.

Johnson May Discuss P.G.E. With Truman, Says Seattle Report

VANCOUVER (CP)—A newspaper dispatch from Seattle said this afternoon Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia may visit Washington, D.C., next week to discuss the Pacific Great Eastern Railway with government officials and President Truman.

The Sun, quoting the Post-Intelligencer, said the talks next Wednesday or Thursday are expected to deal with the possibility of linking the B.C. government-owned line with the Alaska Railway system.

It said there was no immediate comment from Premier Johnson, who received the U.S. invitation from Senator Warren G. Magnuson of Washington.

Premier Johnson is going to Ottawa next week to discuss housing with federal authorities, and Senator Magnuson suggested the Premier journey to Washington for a railway conference.

The U.S. Senate foreign affairs committee is urging President Truman to seek a railway connection between Seattle and Alaska to tap rich natural resources and as a vital defence measure.

May Get Colville

EDMONTON (CP)—Mac Colville, former New York Ranger star in the N.H.L., hopes to catch a playing berth on Edmonton Flyers of the Western Canada Senior Hockey League.

It was reported here today.

The former professional also is considering a coaching offer from the Vancouver Kerrisdale entry in the mainline Okanagan Senior Hockey League.

It is reported that Colville, who has been trying to skate himself into playing shape here the last few nights, will accept the coaching offer if he cannot bring his weight down.

Vancouver Burrards' Protest Disallowed

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Vancouver Burrards' protest over Wednesday night's Mann Cup match was disallowed today by the Canadian Lacrosse Association.

The game, second in the best-of-five series, was won by Hamilton Tigers 16 to 10 and Burrard protested because of what they termed an illegal face-off procedure used by the eastern club.

The Tigers used the centre face-off system. It involves standing on the same side of the ball as an opponent player.

The association executive ruled today that the Tigers must face off in accordance with the 1949 C.L.A. rule book in all future games. The book stipulates that participants in a face-off "must be facing each other, their left shoulders toward the goal they are attacking."

Signed By Seattle

VERNON (BUP)—Signing of Centre Rus Kopak to the roster of the Seattle Ironmen of the Pacific Coast Hockey League was announced today at Vernon by club-owner Frank Dooten.

Kopak, a rangy 175-pound pivot, reports to the Seattle training camp at Vernon Friday. Kopak comes to the Ironmen from Boston Olympics.

Exhumation Order Canceled In Guay Case

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Authorities started to exhume the body of Mrs. Albert Guay today, but later were suddenly given orders to stop as police continued to delve into the explosion-crash of the Quebec Airways plane Sept. 9, in which 23 persons, including Mrs. Guay, were killed.

No explanation was given either for the order to exhume the body, or the order countermanding it. All that was made public was a simple statement by officials of the Sylvia Marceau morgue.

"We have been advised not to go ahead with the exhumation, but to wait for further instructions," said Dr. Paul V. Marceau, district coroner, said the order was "suspended indefinitely." The original order came from the department of the Attorney-General of Quebec.

Albert Guay, Mrs. Guay's husband, was accused of murdering her by what police described as a plot to plant a time-bomb aboard the airliner.

Mr. Howe, in charge of Canada's atomic research, made the brief statement after Opposition members had pressed for such a committee.

Howard Green (P.C.-Vancouver-Quadrant), C.C.F. leader M. J. Coldwell and Social Credit leader Solon Low all urged that one be established. They were joined by J. L. Gibson (Ind.-Comox-Alberni), who sits with the Liberals.

Mr. Howe replied the government would be very glad to co-operate in this matter. He did not say how the committee would be made up or what its functions would be.

Fast Of Death Ends

Lloyd Bitters, 82, is fed soup by a nurse after removal to a hospital from his Los Angeles home, where he was starving himself to death. The aged man told neighbors he was starving himself to death because he was too old to be of any use to anyone. Move A Half Game Ahead Of Cardinals Yanks-Boston Idle

BOSTON (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers roared into undisputed possession of first place in the National League today, swamping the Boston Braves 9 to 2 and 8 to 0 to move a half game ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals who bowed, 7 to 2, to the Pirates in Pittsburgh.

The second game was called after five innings because of darkness.

The Dodgers decided the nightcap in the first inning, scoring five runs against Johnny Sain. They added three more in the second, more than enough for big Don Newcombe.

Newcombe held the Braves hitless for the first three innings and then gave up two safeties in the fourth and fifth. He fanned the last three batters he faced in gaining his 17th victory.

Connie Ryan of the Braves was ejected from the game in the fifth when he crouched in the batting circle wearing a raincoat. The Braves then began lighting fires in their dugout.

First Game—Brooklyn 9, Boston 2. Second Game—Brooklyn 8, Boston 0. St. Louis 7, Pittsburgh 2. St. Louis 6, Pittsburgh 2. St. Louis 5, Pittsburgh 2. St. Louis 4, Pittsburgh 2. St. Louis 3, Pittsburgh 2. St. Louis 2, Pittsburgh 2. St. Louis 1, Pittsburgh 2. St. Louis 0, Pittsburgh 2.

DISCUSS PLAYOFFS

NEW YORK (AP)—The first of a three-game playoff, if needed, to determine the National League team in the world series will be played in St. Louis next Tuesday.

Representatives of the Brooklyn and St. Louis clubs met in National League President Ford Frick's office today and made the arrangements.

A coin was flipped and Cardinal President Fred Saigh called it over a long-distance telephone. Brooklyn, represented by business manager John Collins, got his choice.

He asked the first game be played in St. Louis on Tuesday. The next two games would be played in Brooklyn Thursday and Friday with Wednesday an open date for travel.

Naval Rating Pleads Guilty To Desertion

Communist Labor Congress Predicted In Canada

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Communist Labor Congress embracing at least 50,000 Canadian trade unionists is believed a distinct possibility in this country by next spring.

A Canadian labor lieutenant speculated today the action will stem from a logical change in Kremlin-directed activities in North America; a change from peace-time strife to military preparedness.

Murray Cotterill, national political action director for the Canadian Congress of Labor, said he believed tomorrow's Communist emphasis definitely will be on the military side.

"They seem to believe in the inevitability of a third conflict and are striving for the formation of a strong, all-Red unit in the western democracies. There is little doubt its main strength congress in the U.S., but its Canadian determination and objective will be the same."
